HOMECOMING

SPIRIT

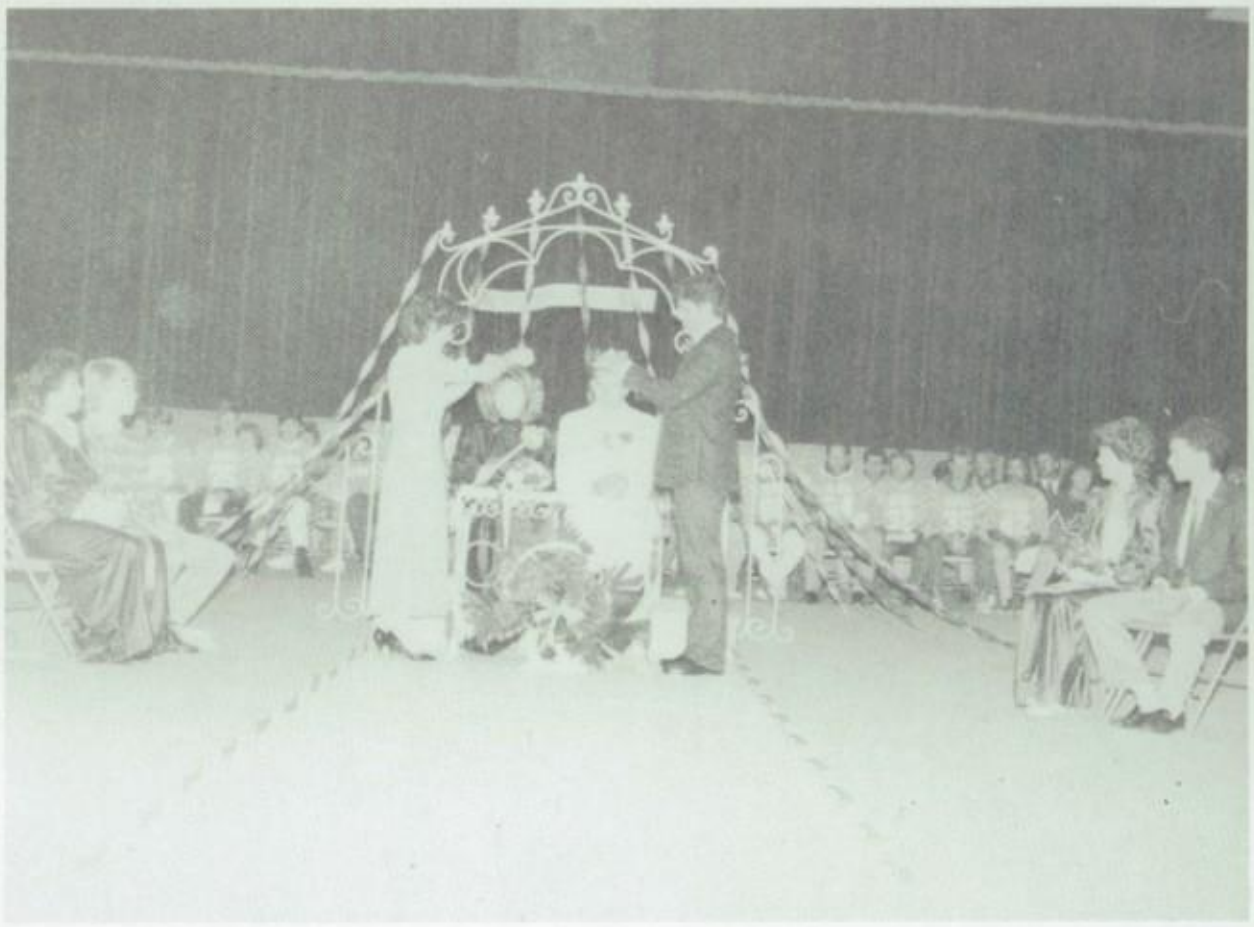
On Monday October 5th approximately 400 students came to ACHS wearing sweat pants and shirts. It was the start of homecoming week and the spirit of winning was in the air.

Later that day students worked on homecoming floats; stretching chicken wire and folding napkins; in hopes that they could build a prize winning float.

Tuesday morning rolled around, and groggy students stumbled to school, their blood-shot eyes hidden by sunglasses. As their eyes were revealed during class time it was evident that to many hours were spent over homecoming preperations.

That night students worked late on the floats, quitting at 10 o'clock, only to go home and wear their already weary minds out doing homework assigned by mean teachers who just didn't understand the effort that had to be put in a successful homecoming.

After a hard night's work students flocked to school the next morning sporting pajamas, bear claw slippers and carrying stuffed animals of all kinds. Work on floats that night was finished at 6:30 as it was church night. Many tired students went to sleep very early that night in anticipation of fun night on Thursday, the Game on Friday, and the dance on Saturday. The Game against the Knoxville Panthers was lost, but the Demon spirit still reigned high Saturday night at the dance. Homecoming "87" was a success!



Homecoming King and Queen Jeff Carter and Stephanie Hollinranke are crowned.

The football players get hyped up for the big game.

The Junior class tries to pull for a victory in a tug-o-war.

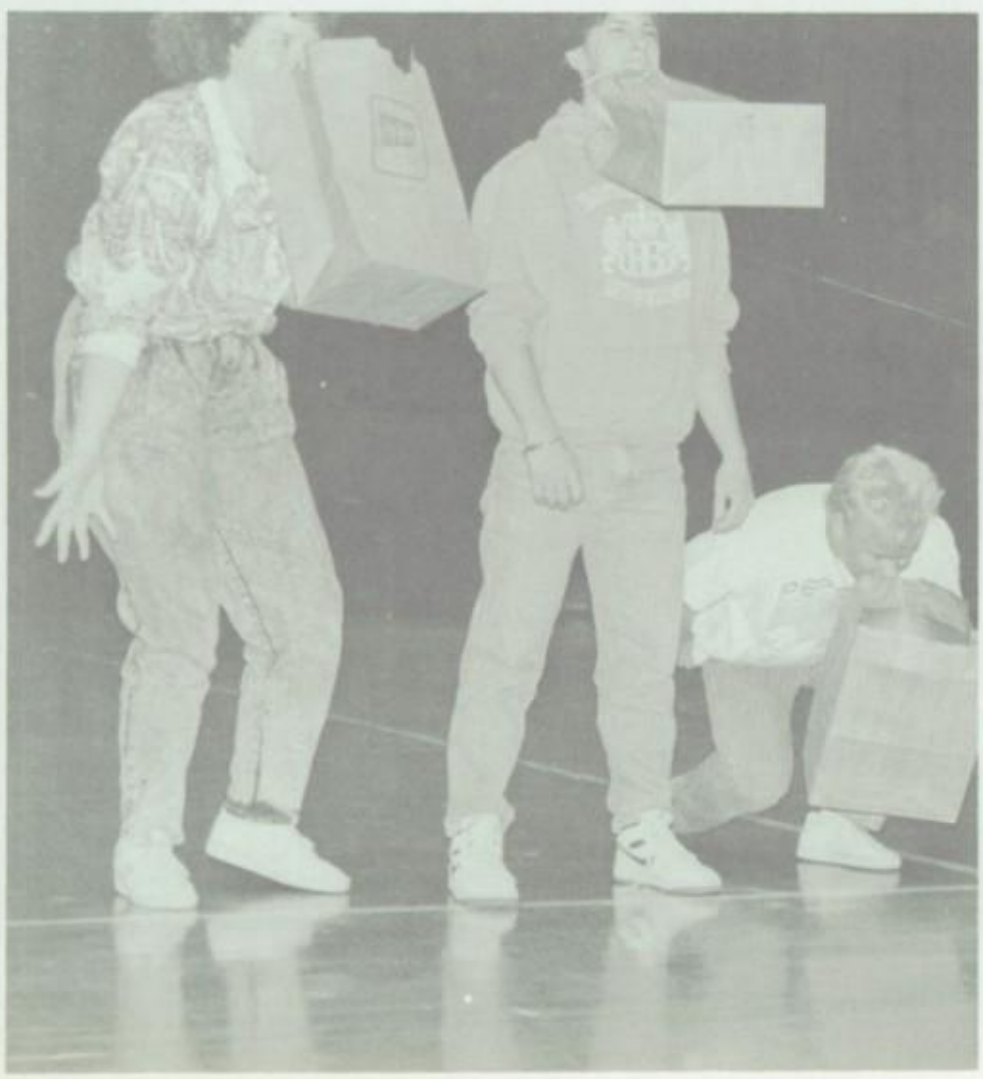
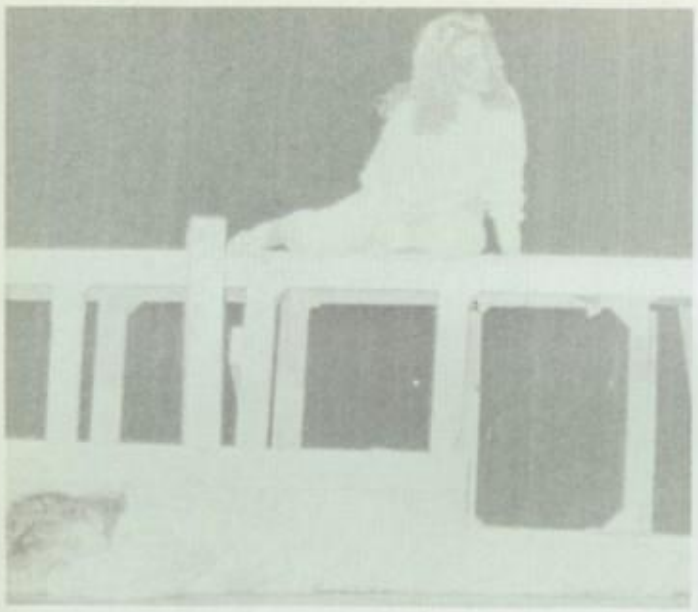
GO BIG BLUE

Senior Jason Summers reigns victorious in the paper bag pick-up.



Pops Choir performs for the Homecoming assembly.



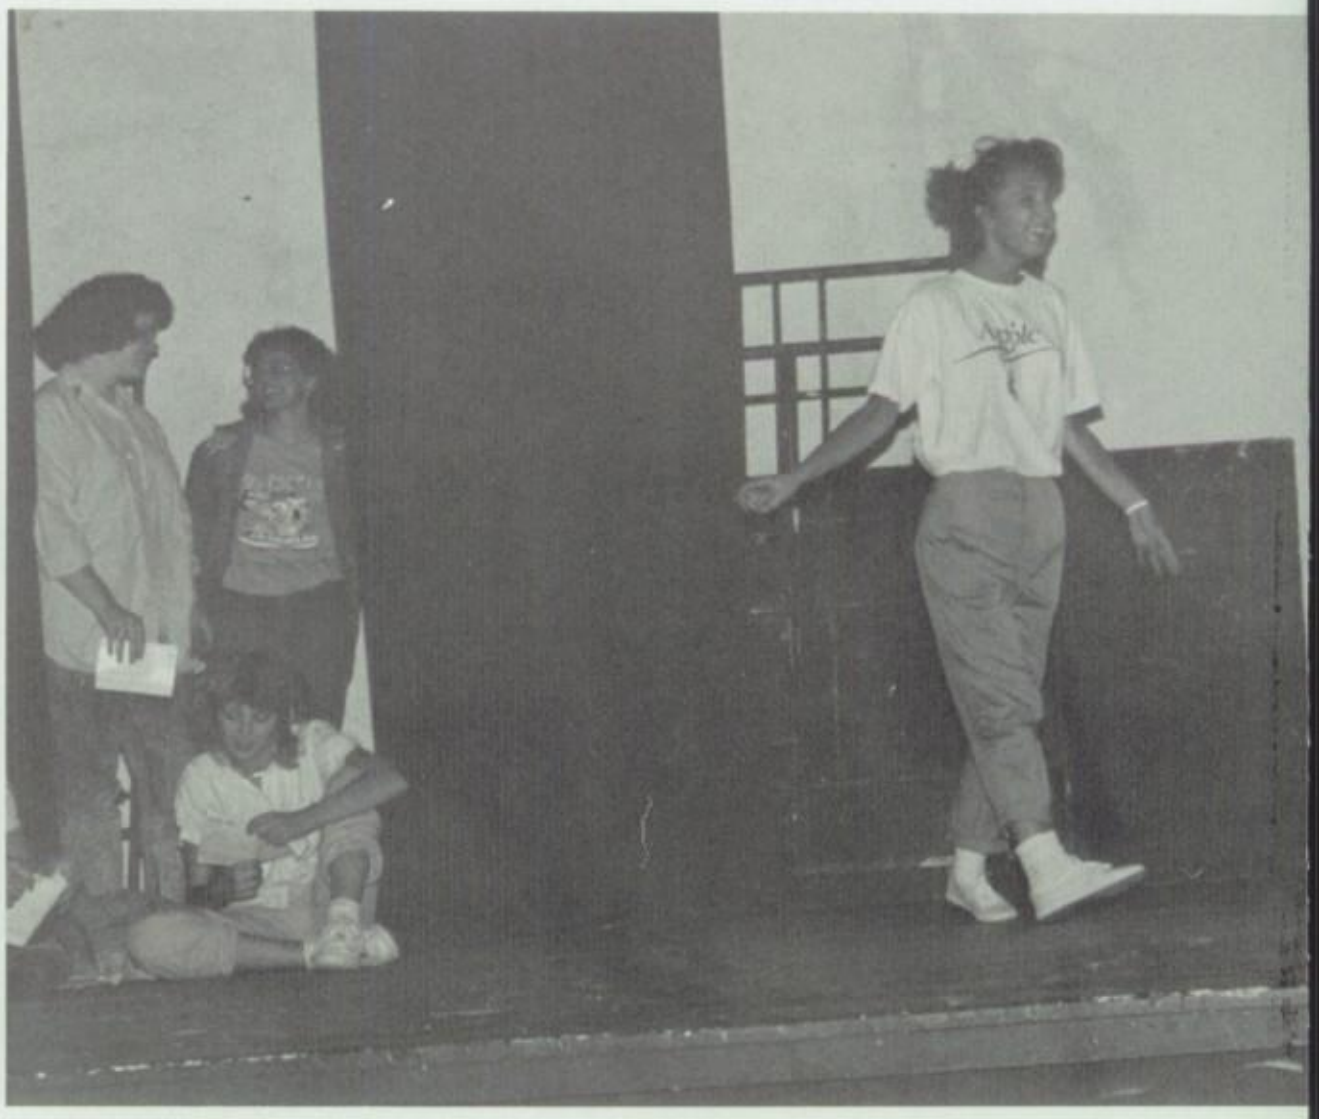
Senior Julie Gansman plays Charolette.

The set crew of Charoletts Web work many long hours.

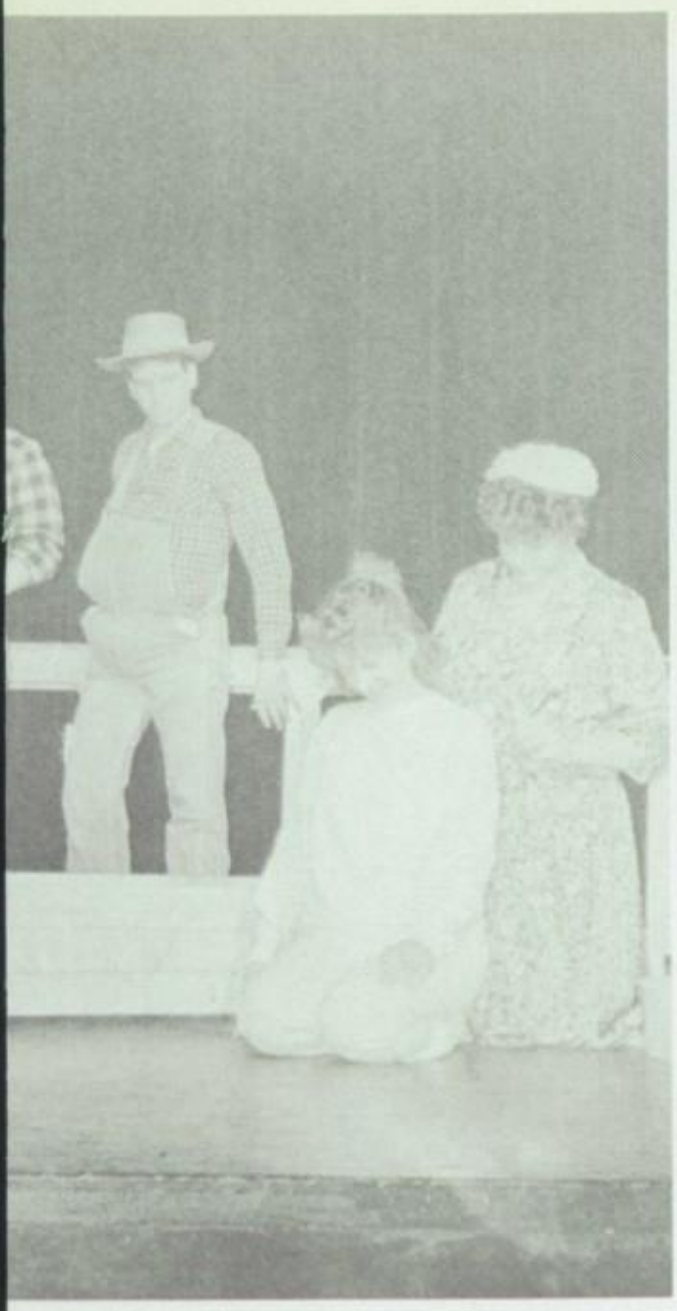
Tab DeMoss acts as announcer for the audience.

The cast of Charoletts Web Performs.

Andrea Cardenzana plays the pig in Charoletts Web.



Jorunn Lye, a foreign exchange student from Norway, plays the goose.



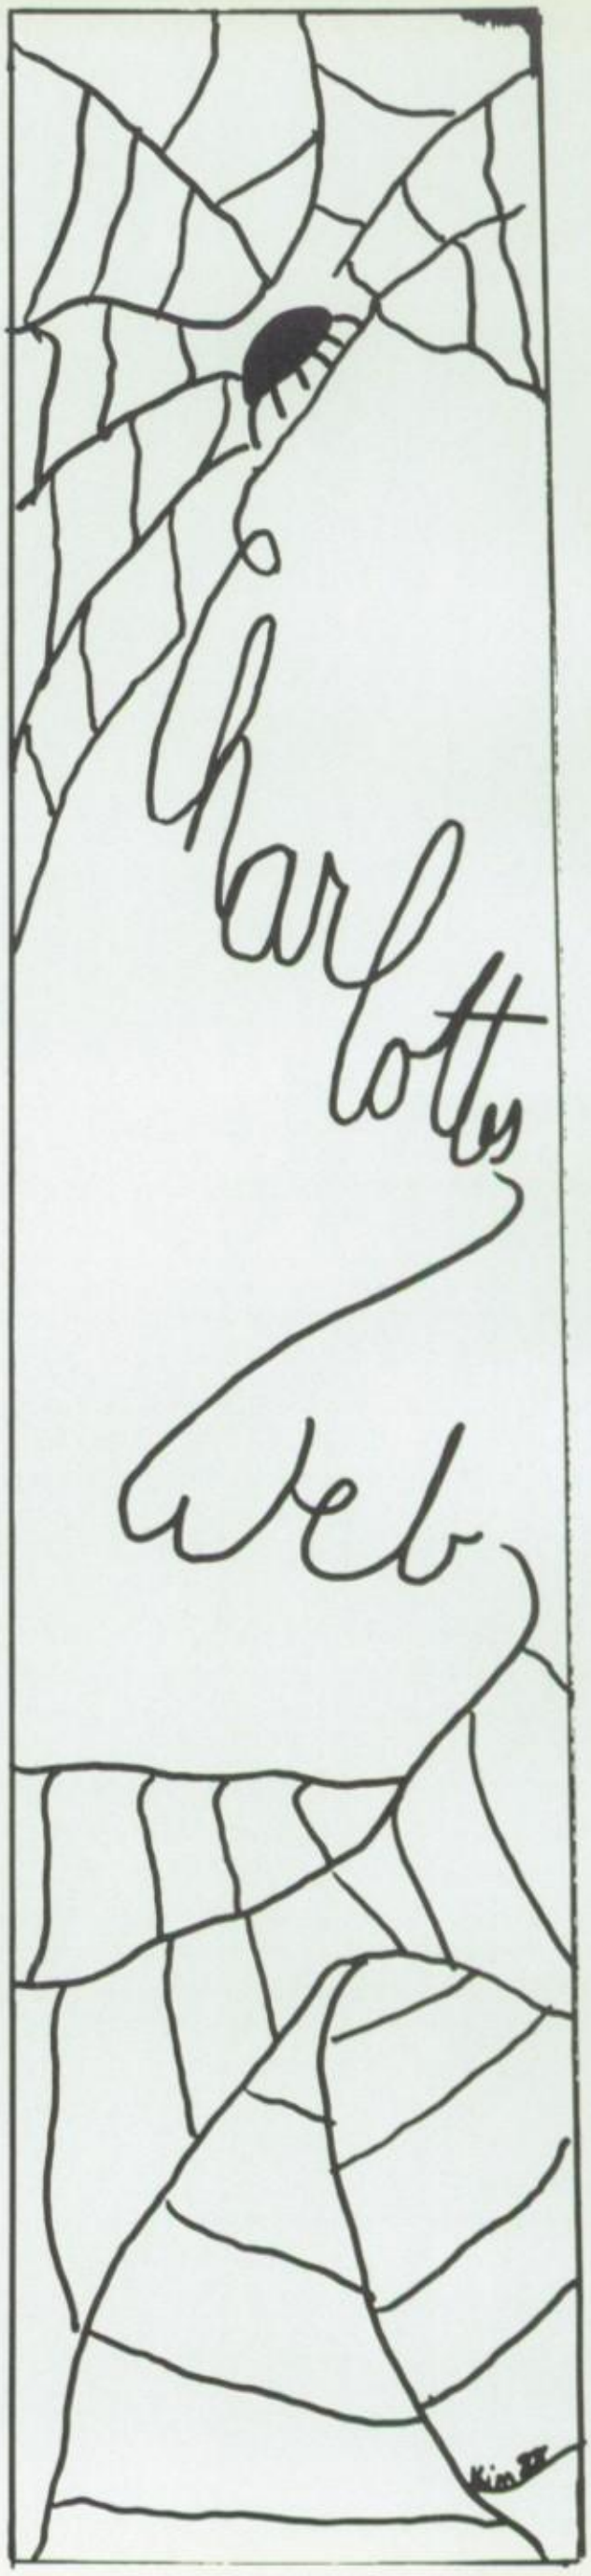
The 1987 Fall Play was Charolette's Web written by E.B. White and dramatized by Joseph Robinette. Students from each class went to try outs held on the 16th and 17th of September. The results were:

Fern Arable- Kristi Willetts
John Arable- J.W. Howie
Marta Arable- Stacy Bates
Avery Arable- Thomas Morgan
Homer Zuckerman- Joey Sample
Edith Zuckerman- Jenny Murphy
Lurvey- Randy Fabert
Wilbur- Andrea Cardenzana
Templeton- Dien Judge
Charolette- Julie Gansman
Goose- Jorunn Lye
Gander- Noel Mason
Old Sheep- Jay James
The Lamb- Terri Thomas
Chorus #1- Tina Lancial
Chorus #2- Vicki Frey
Chorus #3- Rosemary Spaur
Reporter- Tab DeMoss
Uncle- Troy Shehan

Spiders- Lisa Franzen, Wendy Hall, and Shannon Sample

Spectators, Judges, and Fairgoers- Chris Morris, Sarah Marquesen, Michael Freshwater, Chris Kendall, and Melissa Johnson.

The Play was directed by Matthew Foster. During practice each day characters were formed and new ideas were added. The last week was dress rehersal. Opening Night was November 13, with approximately 150 attending. The second night was November 14th with approximately 150 attending. Also on November 13 the cast performed for the elementary schools. Altogether it was a great success.



FRESHMAN

Freshman Mindy Crall and Tonya Blanchard blow dry each other's hair before a game.

The freshman class, class of 1991, had an easy year of coping with a new experience at Albia High School. The beginning of the year was again a slow year but as Homecoming came around the class worked together on a class float and won the Homecoming float contest. They also put on the Christmas Dance. It's been great so far.

Chris Kendall- I think the biggest difference is that you get to choose your own classes at High School. When I was in Middle School they just said that you were in this class.

Thomas Morgan- Personally, I enjoyed Middle School very much, although I love acting, and at High School they have Drama club.

Dien Judge- I like the freedom of High School, you get more time to do things and above all you don't get treated like a kid. There are, however, certain teachers that I don't like. I give High School a thumbs up.

Tammy DeMoss- The difference to me between High School and Middle School is you are treated more like an adult at High School.

J.W.- I like High School because I get treated like an adult and get more opportunity to choose more.

Freshman Debbie Beary leads the way for the schools first fire drill.

SOPHOMORES

Jodi Smith and Marcy Durian enjoy their ride home after a game.

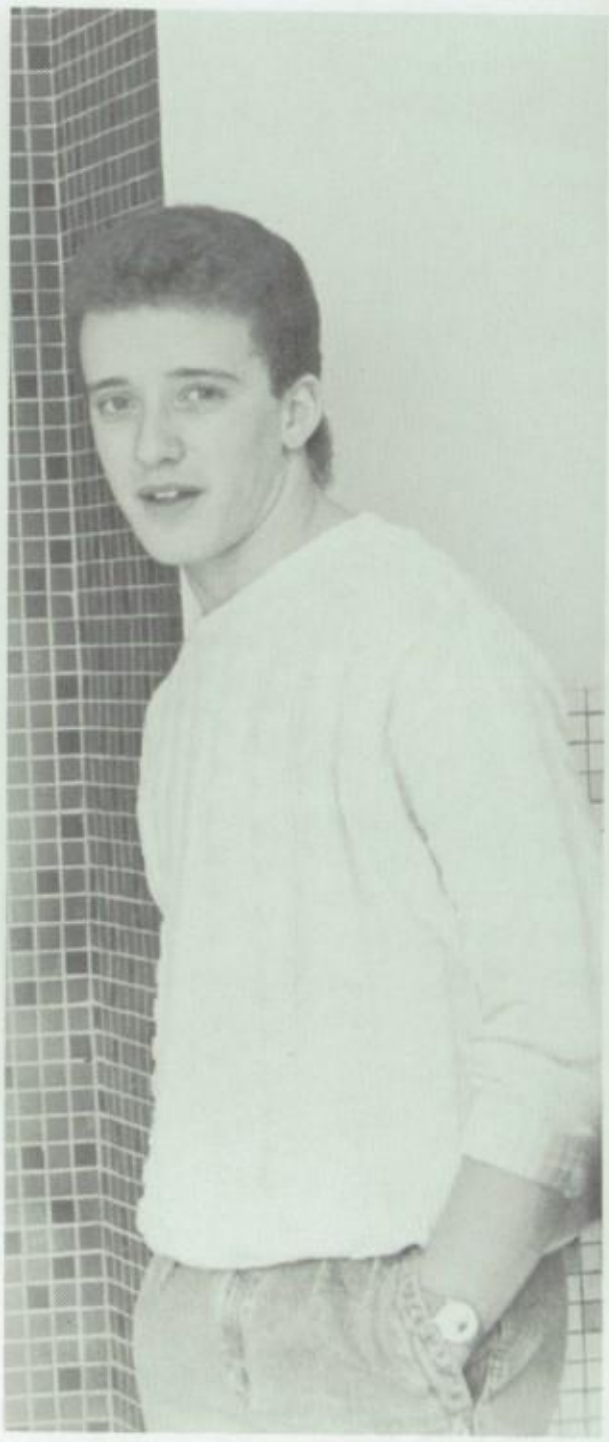
Shannon Bakalar, Jenny Allison, and Angie Brown are secretly conversing during aerobics.

Lance Summers and Chris Whitson gaze happily into the camera.

The Sophomore class started the year off slowly, but they seemed to have enjoyed it. As February came around the class worked together on the most romantic dance for some students, the Valentines Dance. From then on it was fun.

JUNIORS

Juniors gaze at a guest speaker for their class.



Junior Brian Keeton stands sophistically.

The junior class felt it's going to be a fantastic year. The junior class worked hard to make money all year long. The "1989" class won the contest at Fun Night during Homecoming week. Towards the end of the year the class worked together and put on a tremendous Prom and After Prom.

Homecoming Attendents Ms. Katherine Knowles and Mr. Bill Carter shows class spirit in the parade.

SENIORS

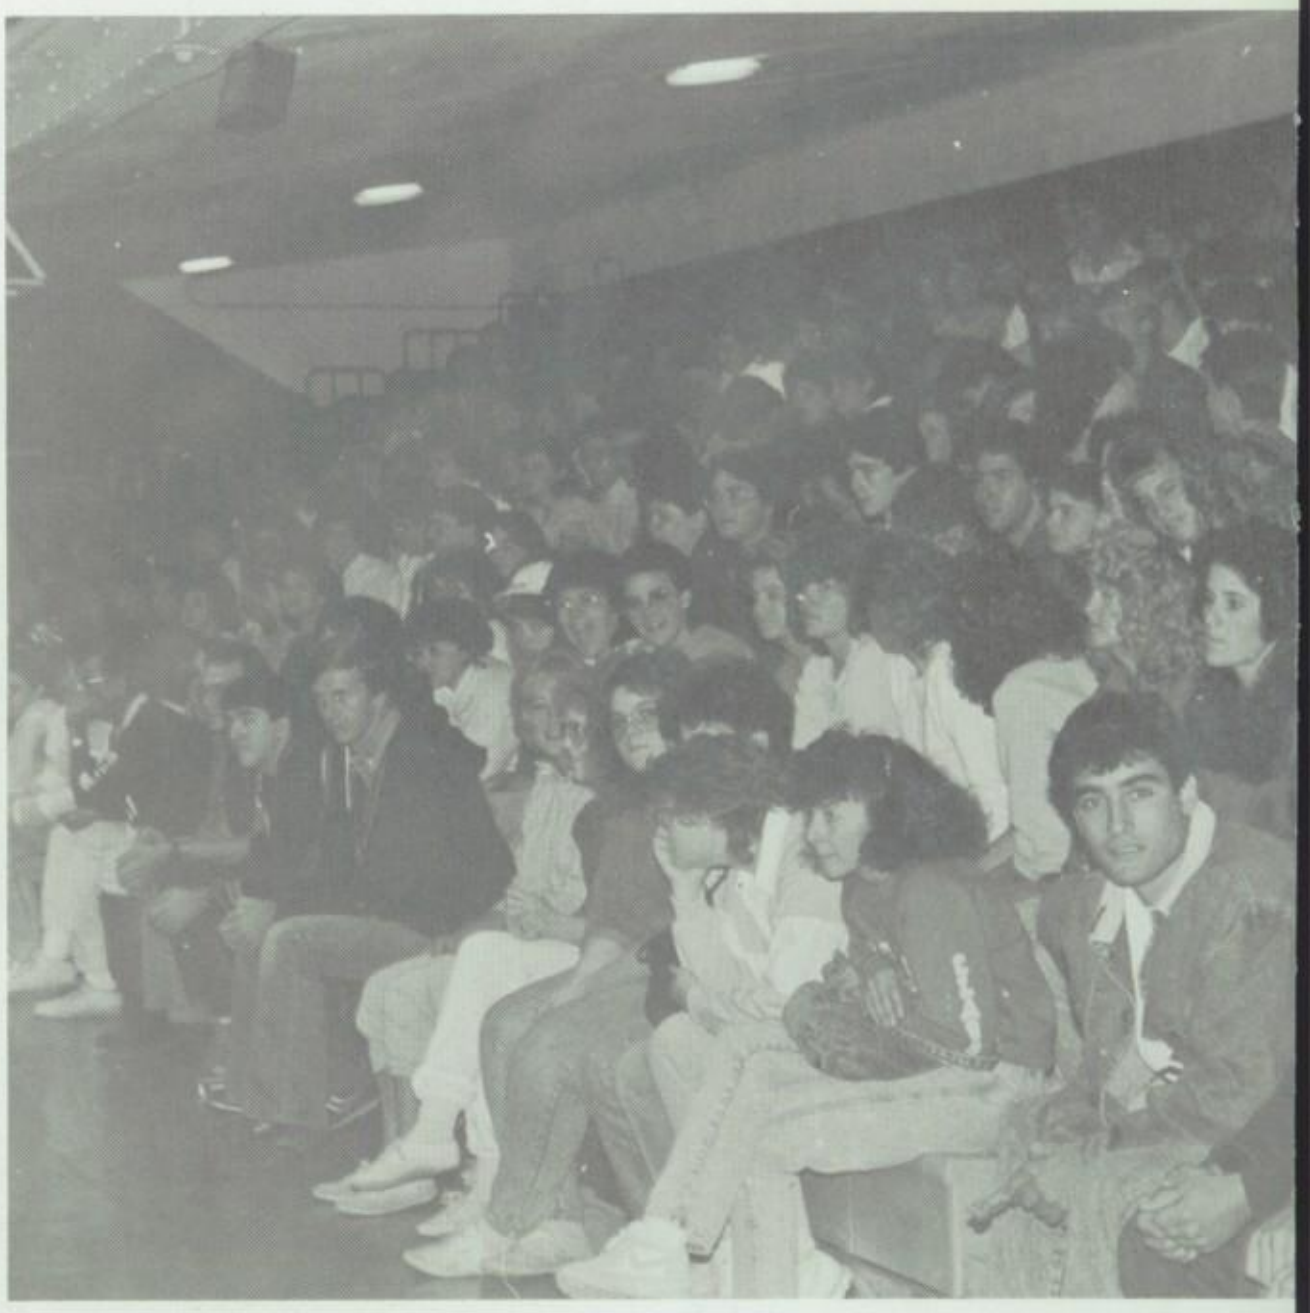
A few Seniors take time out to enjoy a game.

As the year 1987-88 began the seniors experienced the most wonderful feelings. Seniors were excited as the school year began and continued until the end of the year came around. Seniors began to shed tears and emotions and began to mature. Now they press on for higher goals.

Several times throughout the year students took a break from the standard routine to attend various assemblies. During the pep assemblies, sponsored by the ACHS cheerleaders, coaches from each sport gave speeches to try to boost school pride.

Special events during the year also prompted assemblies. An Air Force Band called the Pacesetters performed, and Senator Grassley gave a speech and answered questions from the students. In May the senior assembly was held and most seniors celebrated the end of high school and the beginning of life.



Junior and Senior students are content and excited to hear the Pep Talks from various coaches about Homecoming week.

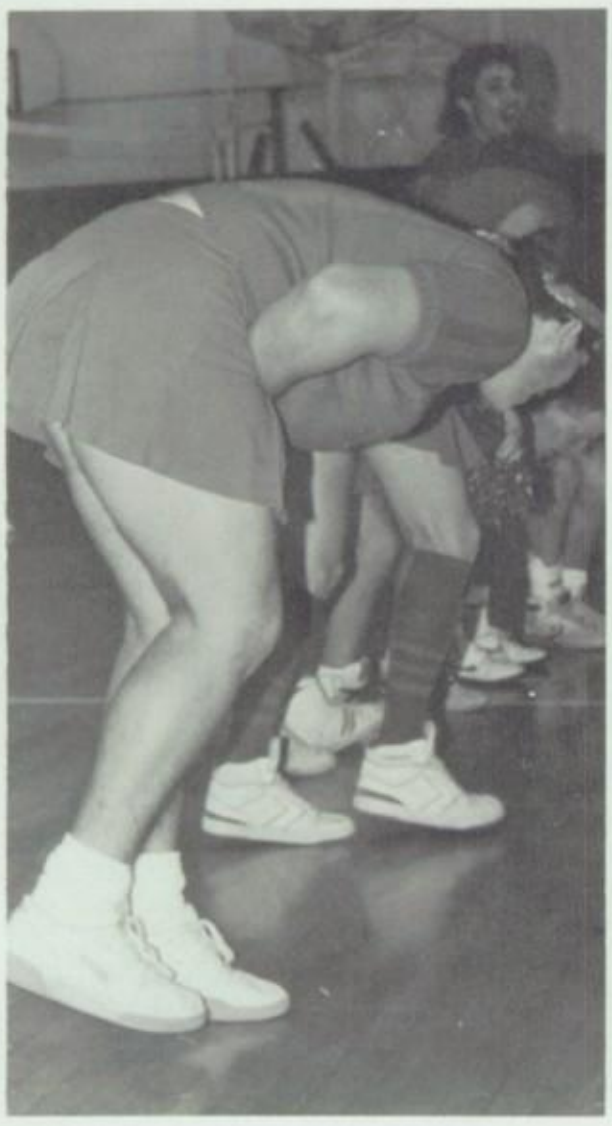
Mr. Casebolt and Mr. Quinn laugh about a game played during Fun Night.

Mr. Quinn and Mrs. Haluska give a lecture about rules.

ASSEMBLIES

Students wait patiently to get the assembly started.

During homecoming week one of the events the students council put on was eating jello with chop sticks.



Jamie Clark, Jeff Carter, Kevin Heffron, Randy Noe, Matt Archibald, and Wayne Conway dress up.

Senior Angie Richardson walks out of the stands to participate in a Homecoming event.

DRESS

As a tradition Albia High School has contests called dress up days where all the students are allowed to dress up however they want and at the end of the day they are judged. This allows students to use their imaginations and go crazy with their outfits. This year there was a great turn out.

On P.J. Day Matt Archibald dresses up like an old lady at bed time.

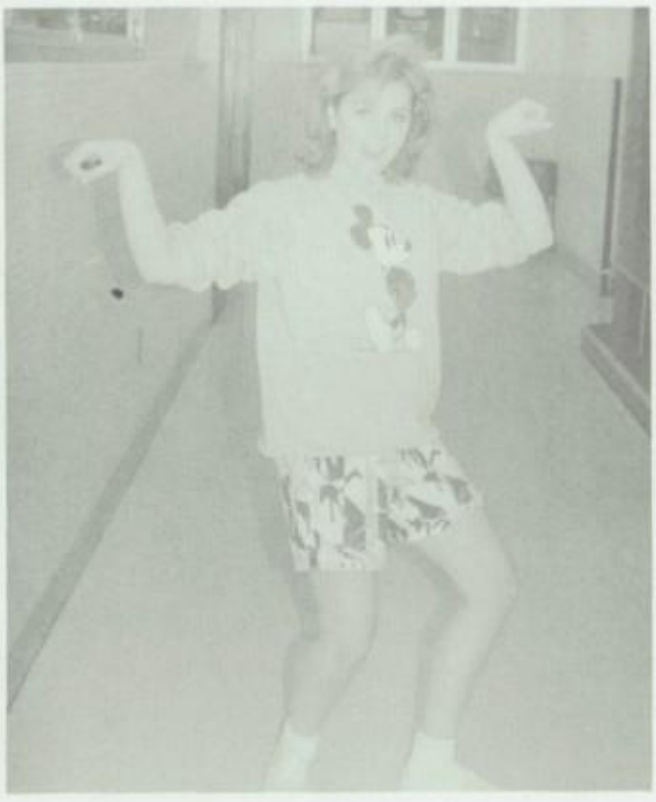
During homecoming week Jeff Carter buys hammers to let the seniors win the candy prize.

UP DAYS

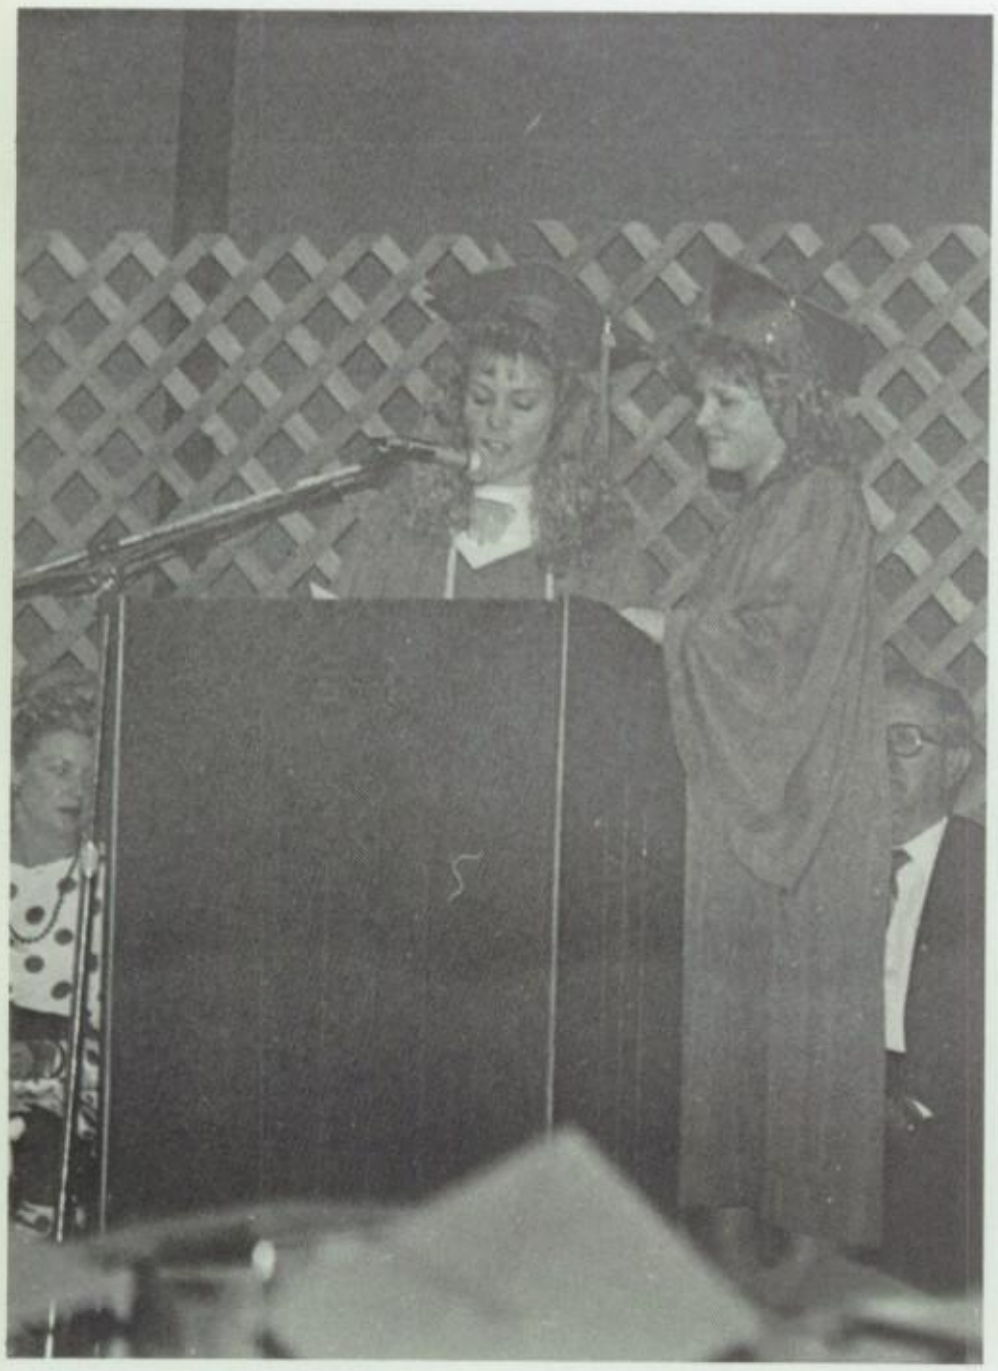
During a class period Mr. Quinn, and Mrs. Zelhart have fun with Mrs. Zelhart's grass skirt.

Jim Angran sits in the Electricity room trying to be a lady on Hawaiian Day.

Angie Ammons and Andrea Cardenzana sleepwalk through Wednesday classes during Homecoming Week.



Tonya Blanchard struts her stuff for Hawaiian Day.



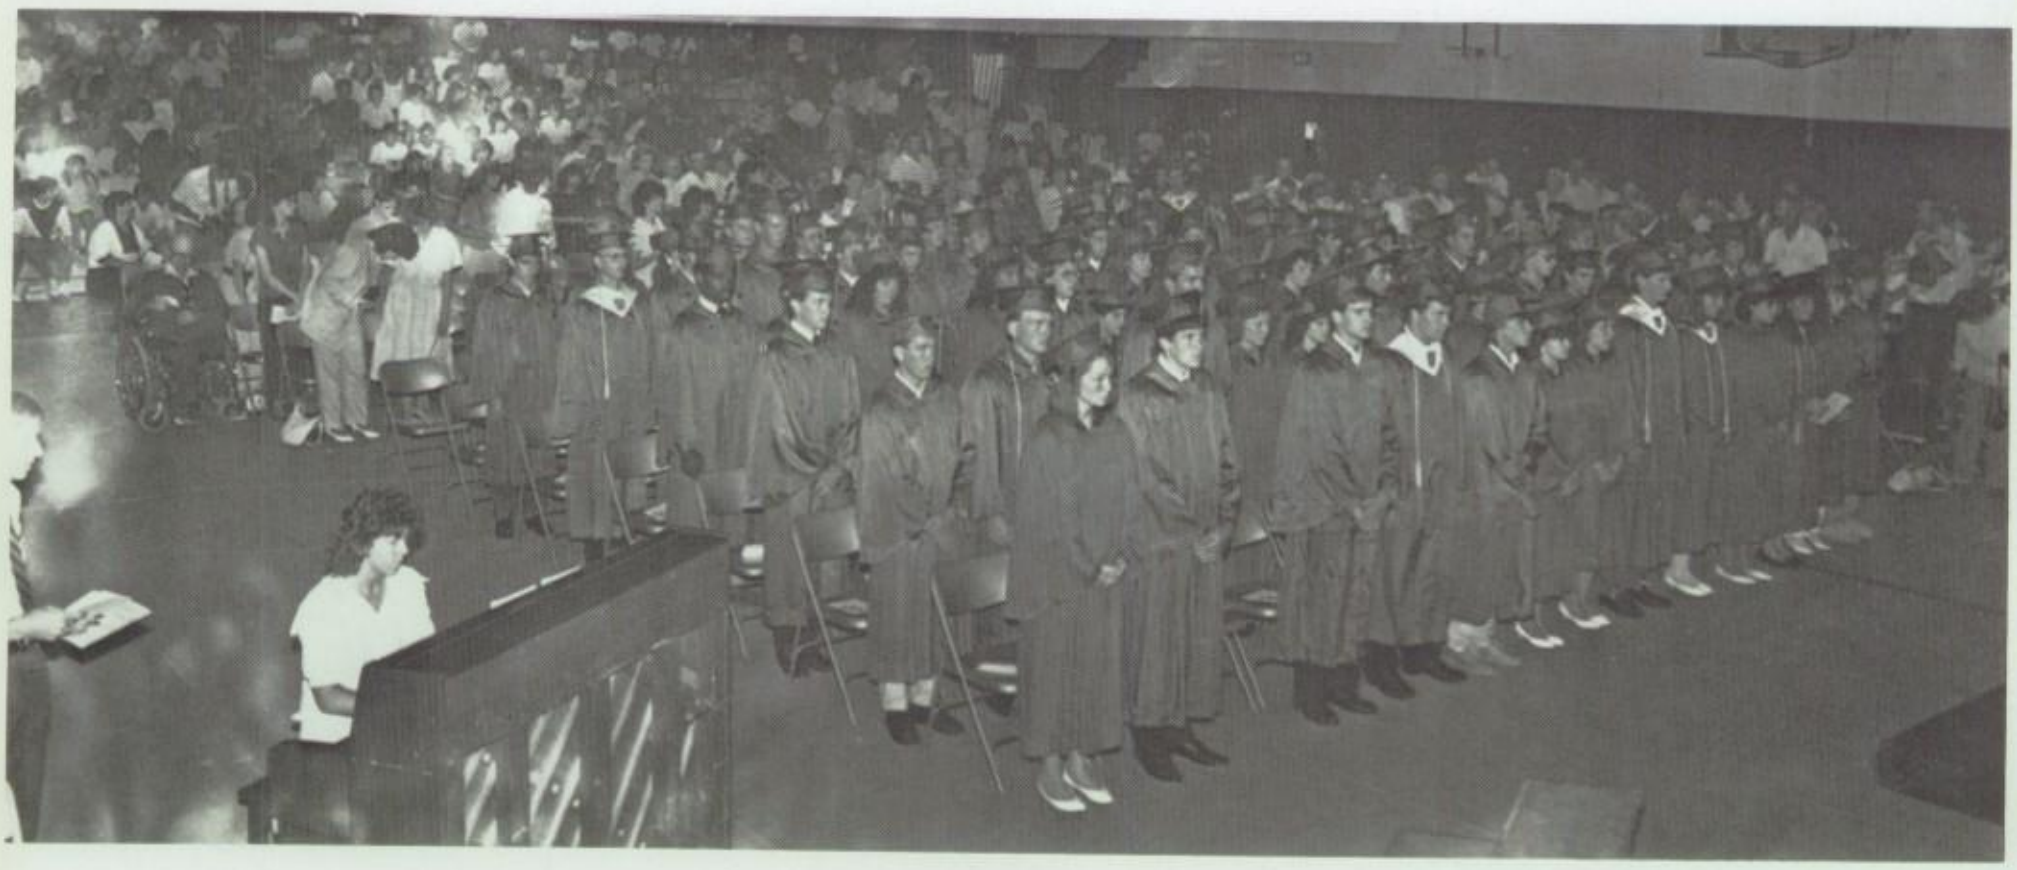
Sr. Julie Gansman and Mary Scieszinski announce the wills.

ASSEMBLY PUTS SENIORS ON A ROLL

As the end of the year grew near the seniors were awarded for their goals and accomplishments. The Senior Assembly was held on May 26. The year was a success for Terry Braun and Tim Morgan receiving full scholarships from Indian Hills. Other big winners were Julie Gansman, Kevin Heffron, Tracy Sharpe, Scott Vestal, and Fred Zelhart. As tradition class president Mary Scieszinski gives class key to Jr. class pres. Bill Carter.

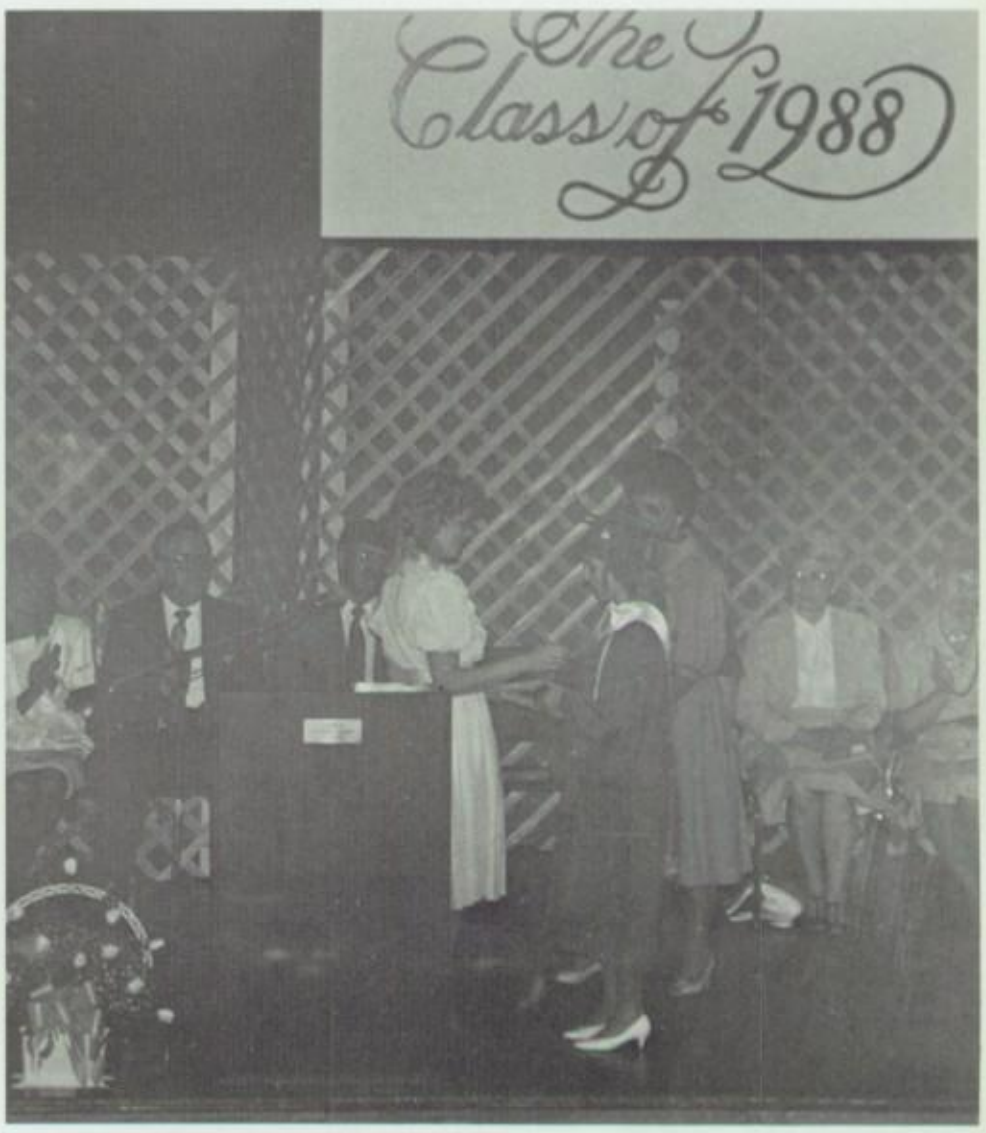
Special Awards given by Mr. Leber went to Outstanding Citizen Tracy Sharpe, Attendance David Stanley, Agriculture Bill Belzer, Male and Female Althletes Matt Sarver and Michelle Freshwater, Art Student Randy Fabert, Business Joy Morehead, Drama Andrea Cardenzana, Home Economics Annette DeMoss, Industrial Arts Chris Garrison, Language Arts and Band Rosemary Spaur, Foriegn Language Tracey Sharpe, Math and Science Terry Braun, Vocal Music Ramona Knapp, Physical Education Wendy Gray and Shane Rhodes, and Social Studies Tony Fontiel.

The gift to the school from the class of 88 was a display case in the senior hallway. The Senior class carries many memories, but ones they will never forget.



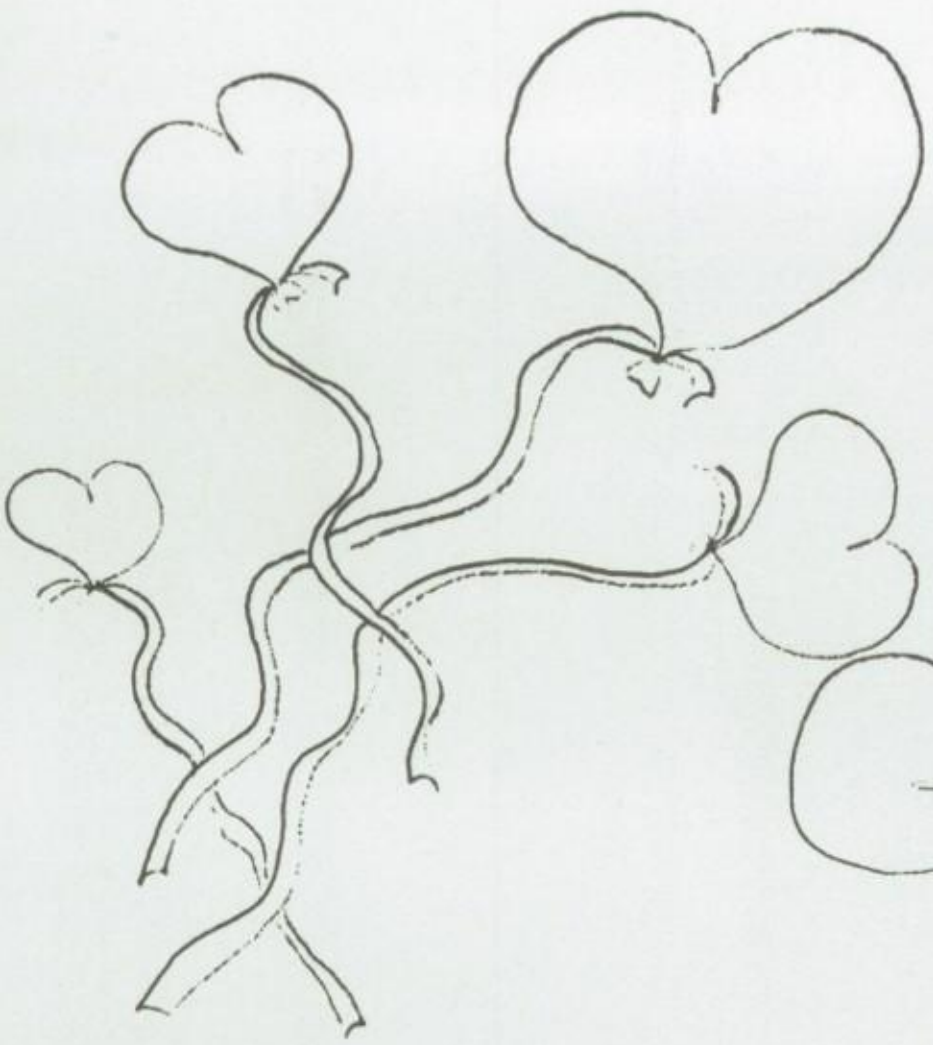
Seniors await to hear who was selected for various scholarships.

Bill Belzer recieves an agriculture scholarship.



Tracey Sharpe recieves $100 FHA Scholarship.

Seniors sit and look back on their previous life at Albia High, and look to their future in the world.



Never Say Goodbye

JR. SR. PROM 1988

Another year came around for the junior-senior prom. Juniors became excited when May 1 came around. It was the day that they began to put decorations up for May 7, 1988 by 8:00 men and women came all dressed up in tuxedos and prom dresses. It was a night for fun and romance. Every junior awaited three questions of "what are the colors and what is the theme?" The big night comes and everyone gets nervous, but they are ready for the excitement.

IT WAS A NIGHT TO REMEMBER AT ALBIA HIGH

Junior Max Hope tries to show enthusiasm about Prom.

Prom was Great! This year prom seemed like it was a success. Everyone was dressed in formals and tuxedos to dance their feet off to the band; "Crystal". Crystal, the band from Ottumwa, played some awesome 80's music. Crystal added great success to prom. "It became a night to Remember!"

Joey Sample and Freshman Missy Johnson do the waltz.

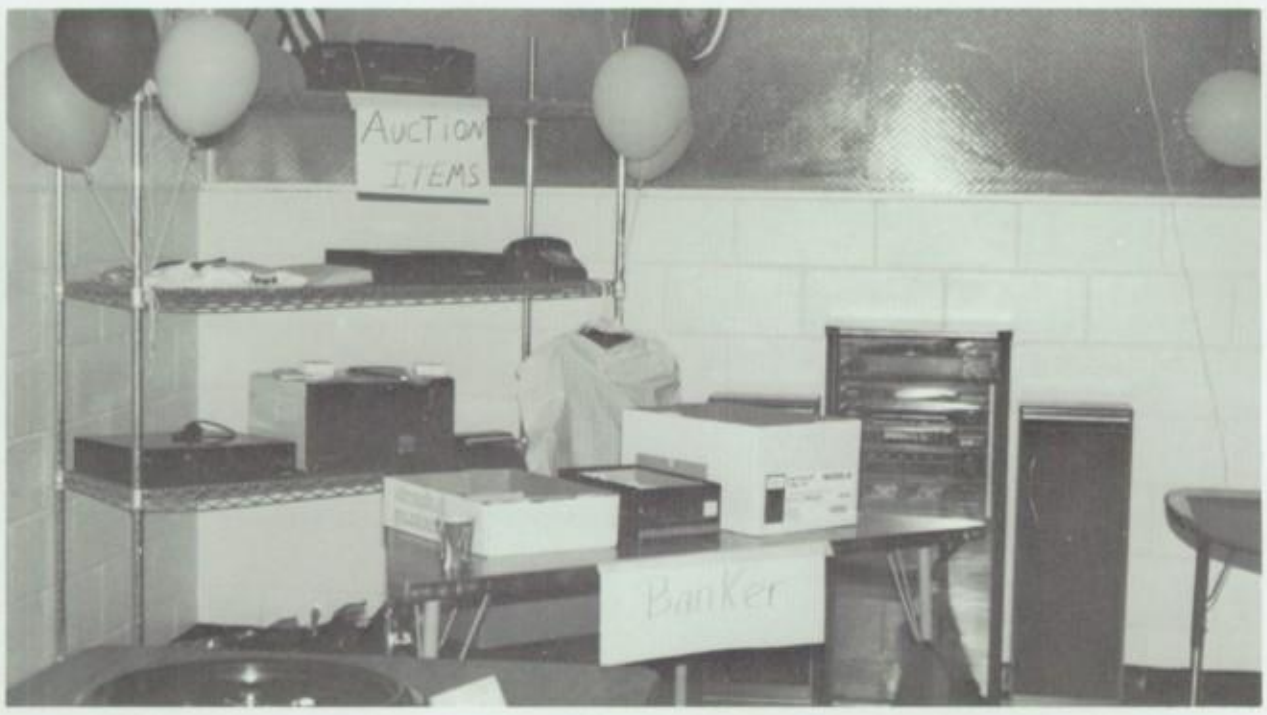
Colors for the Junior-Senior Prom were Silver, Blue, and Purple. The floor was accented with balloons and glitter. It was neat.

Junior foreign exchange student Anders Petersen and Junior Terri Thomas are having a talk.

At the After Prom there was various games and a dance. There was Black Jack, Video games, a Screen Video Dance, and food was served. Free food and drinks helped bring people in. After Prom was a success.

The gym had a wooden bridge accented with lights which made prom even more dreamy.



Prizes for the After Prom are shown here.

The After Prom prizes were a VCR, a microwave, phone, CD Player, Cassette Player, and a Stero. Kids could buy these items at the auction at the end of the evening.

Concert Choir sings "Go With A Song In Your Heart" as Paul Peterson directs at Graduation.

On Saturday May 28, 1988, 89 students graduated from Albia Community High School. The ceremony was opened by Michelle Freshwater. Concert Band played the theme song to "Top Gun". The Honor Awards were given out by Mr. Leber. The Salutatorian address was given by Tim Morgan. The Albia Concert Choir performed "Go With A Song In Your Heart", directed by Paul Peterson. The introduction of the guest speaker was presented by Julie Gansman. Mr. Hjalmer Lindberg, counselor gave the commencement address. The presentation of the diplomas were given out by the Board of Directors. Terry Braun gives his Valedictorian address following presentation of diplomas. The closing remarks were given by Mary Scieszinski. Closing the ceremony the Concert Band played "The Gallant Men" by Cacavas. The class of 88 will now look on to their future, but always remember their past years.

GRADUATION

As a class that has just graduated the class of 88 turns their tassels together.

Counselor Hjamler Lindberg gives a speech at Graduation over the ingredients of success.

The Senior class waits in the auditorum for the start of Senior Assembly

1988 DRAMA PRESENTS

Mary Warren has come back from the proceeding after John Proctor had forbid her to go.

Reverend Hale ask Elizabeth Proctor to persuade her husband John Proctor into confessing that he is a witch.

The court comes to take Elizabeth Proctor away.

The court questions Elizabeth Proctor about her reasons for putting Abigal on the high road and if her husband is actually a lecher.

THE CRUCIBLE

Reverend Hale questions John and Elizabeth Proctor because Elizabeth has been accused of witchery.

Reverend Hale tries to tell Reverend Parris, Rebecca and Mr. and Mrs. Putnam if Betty is in the Devil's grip.

This year the 1987-88 Marching Band has had an adventurous year, and it has been very rewarding and challenging to the new band instructor, Mr. James Dunn. Mr. Dunn has done a great job with the members of his band and has made himself at home here at Albia High. This year the marching band has had many advantages to improve as people and as a band.The Albia Marching Band went to many parades and many marching contests where they did well. They also went to Washington D.C. to perform in a field contests and to march in a large parade. Due to their accomplishments last year and this year, it's been a "Great Year".

"IT'S BEEN A GREAT YEAR FOR BOTH JAZZ BAND & MARCHING BAND."

Mr. Dunn and the Jazz Band practice very hard for the Swing Show on May 12 and 14 of 1988. It takes a lot of practice.

Jazz Band members have had an interesting year since Mr. James Dunn arrived this fall. Mr. Dunn really took an interest in his Jazz Band students as if they were his own. Sherri Tibbals, a saxaphone player in the Jazz Band says "everyone really liked Mr. Dunn and the seniors are going to be missing him when they graduate." It's been great.

"IT'S BEEN A YEAR TO REMEMBER IN THE MUSIC DEPT."

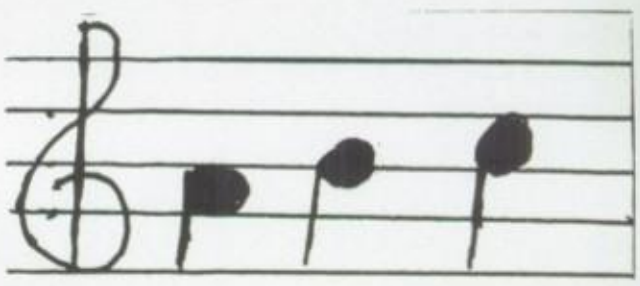
This year the mixed Choir has shown a lot of talent. Many of the mixed choir members has said "NO GUTS; NO GLORY, " but many of them say they have learned from varioius Concert Choir students.

Both Concert Choir and Mixed Choir students have shown great potential and they have matured vocally and as a person themselves. The music department has gone to many solo contests and one was held right here in Albia. In large group contest, which was held in Pella we recieved a 3 in the contest. They went to Festivals in various towns and made themselves appear great which they are. These students worked very hard to achieve their high goals in life and some even have reached them already.



People don't realize that it takes a lot to become a mature singer. Many times peole who are going to sing in these extra activities come in before and after school to work on their voice. Mr. Paul Peterson, the music instructor really believes he has Great talent in the music classes and is proud of the success that they have had this year. It is a New Experience for us all.

"IT WAS A NEW START FOR MOST MEMBERS: BUT IT WAS GREAT!"

POPS CHOIR "1988"

Albia Pops Choir 1988 Members: 1st Row: Jeff Carter, Scott Bettis, Joe Fosenburg, Bion Thompson. 2nd Row: Marc Jones, Loren Sisler, Stacy Chidester, Angie Gardner, Jill Landgrebe, Jamie Clark, Michelle Gray, Dean Parenza, Gina Dellavedova, Melissa Demoss. 3rd Row: Troy Shehan, Joe Sample, Mike Flahive, Meagan Cosgrove, Susan Nolan, Shelly Wright, Sandie Cook, Julie Gansman, Deb Hatfield, Tina Carter, Ramona Knapp.

"As the year went by it seemed at times we wouldn't make it but we did" says one Pops Choir member. The Albia Pops Choir picked up a new crew this year. There were three veterans who knew what went on and the rest learned along the way.

Through hard morning practice three times a week everyone matured as a singer and person. They have done many shows, went to many contests, and finally the Swing Show came around on May 12 and 14, at 8:00 p.m. This was the hardest time, it was the last time they'd perform. But there's another year to come with old people; new people, old things, and new things.

Mr. Johnson helps out Robbie Forsythe on his homework.

Mr. Mason,Kelly Romanco, and Jim Angran work in Shop Class.

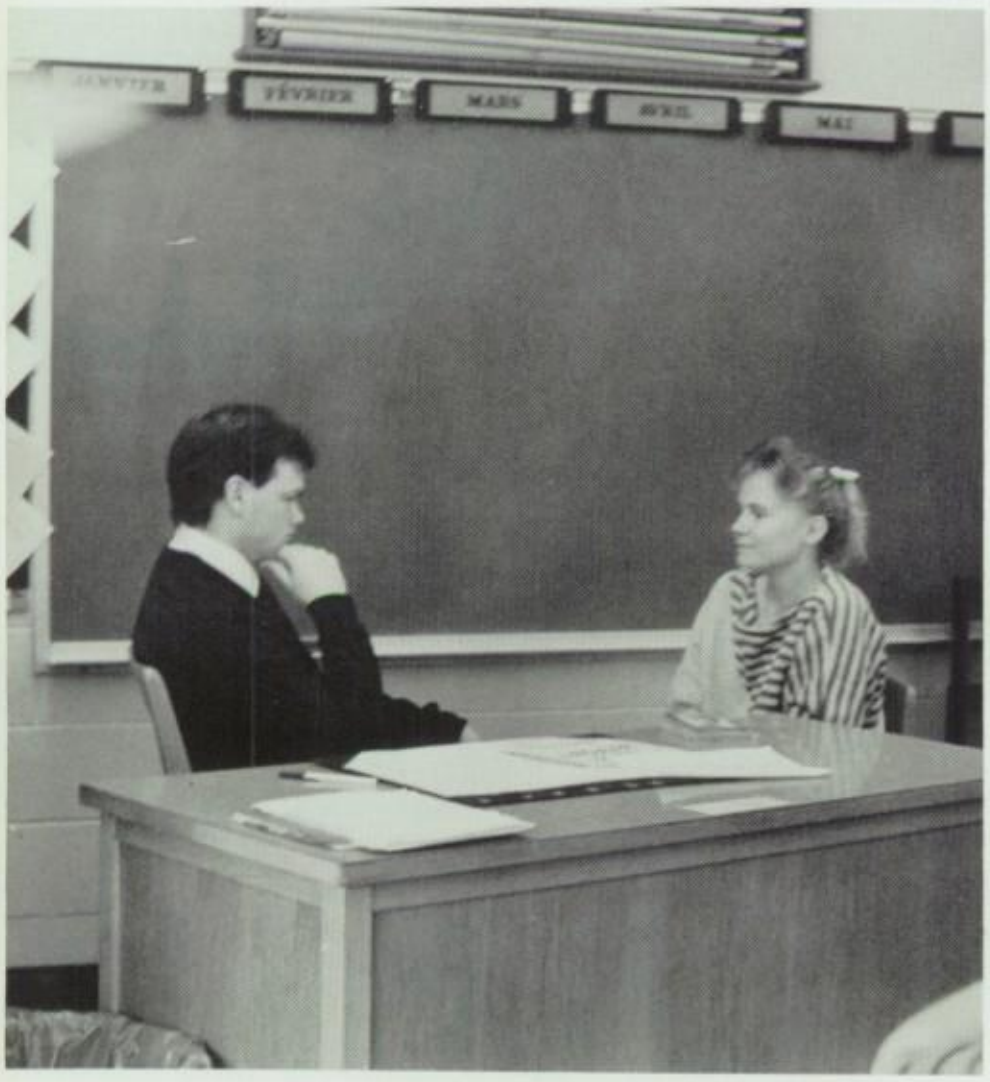
ACADEMICS

ENGLISH

In Writing class Russ Chamberlain gives a presentation over "Life".

The Advanced American Literature classes visit the Public Library.



Mr. Petersen and Tracy Walker discuss a book report.

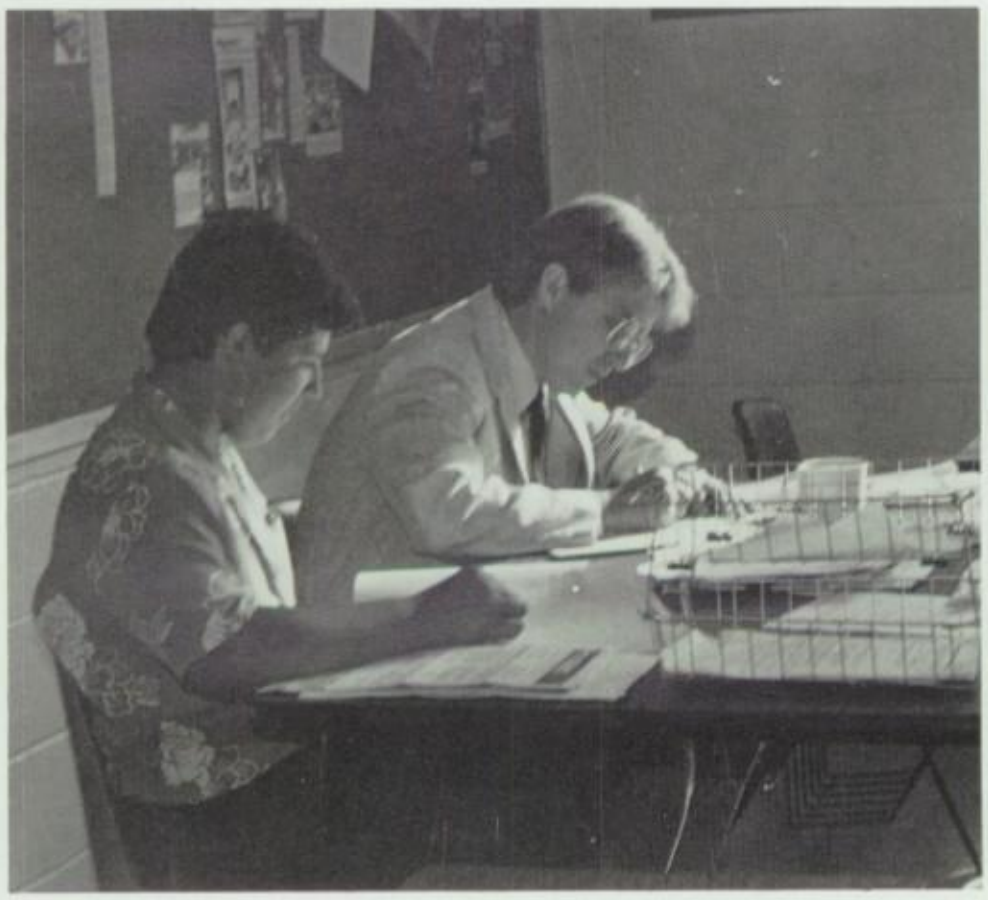
The English Department this year was a new experience for both students and teachers. The English Department acquired two new teachers. They included Mr. Curtis Hodgdon, the new Writing, Dark Room, Yearbook, Journalism, and Individualized Reading teacher, and Mr. Wade Petersen, the new World Literature and French I and II teacher.

In Speech, World Literature, American Literature and Individualized Reading classes took time in class to achieve more knowledge in their reading ability by reading, studying cultures, and various novels.

Mrs. Sprouse and Mr. Hodgdon worked together in their American Literature classes where they divided the classes into groups and alternated their days of teaching with each group. One day a group would have writing, an advanced class which enabled the group to utilize their abilities with paragraphs and poetry, while the next day they would have American Literature. Mrs. Sprouse also worked with Mr. Quinn in teaching the Advanced American Literature and the Advanced American History class which was a combined class.

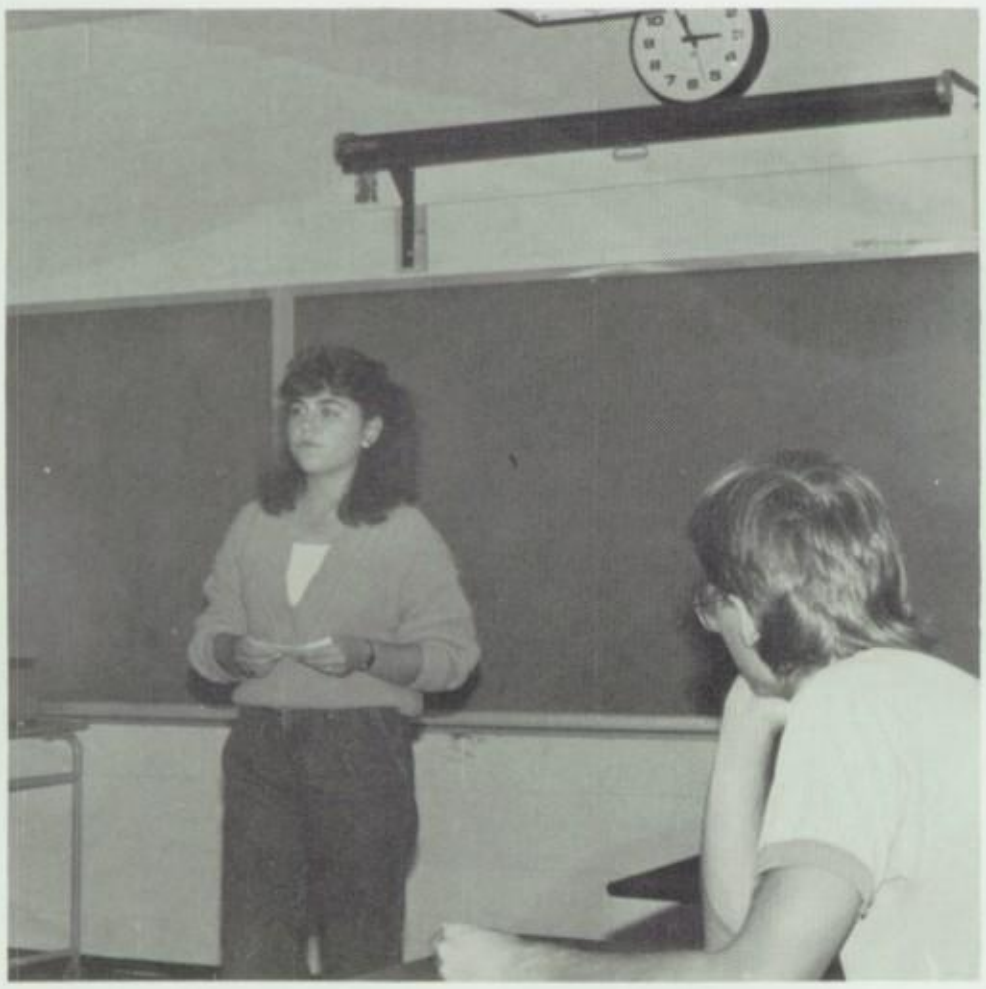
Mr. Foster was the Speech and Study Skills teacher, he too, allowed his students to achieve more in their speech and study skills in everyday communications. Mr. Foster was also head of the English Department.

SPEECH AND DRAMA



Joe Chidester gives an oral book report to Mr. Matthew Foster in speech class.

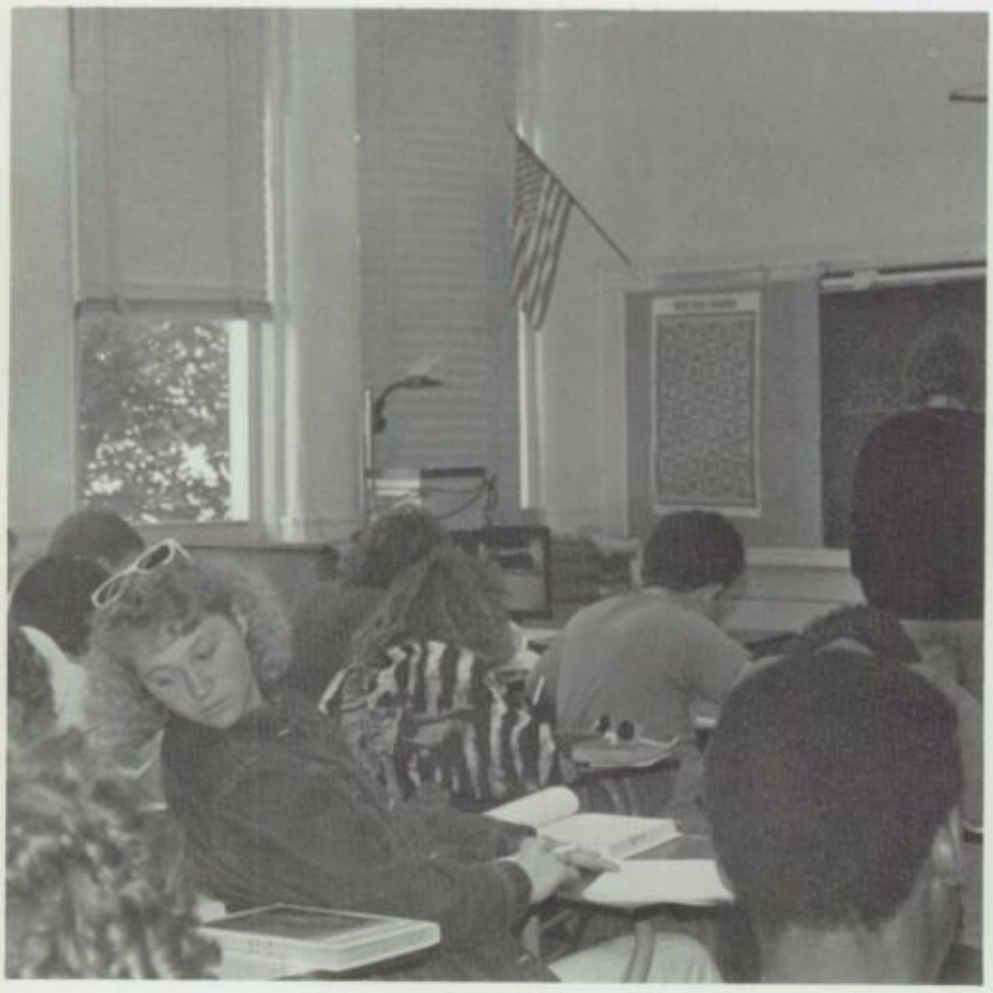
The drama members await patiently for the elementary students to arrive for the show.



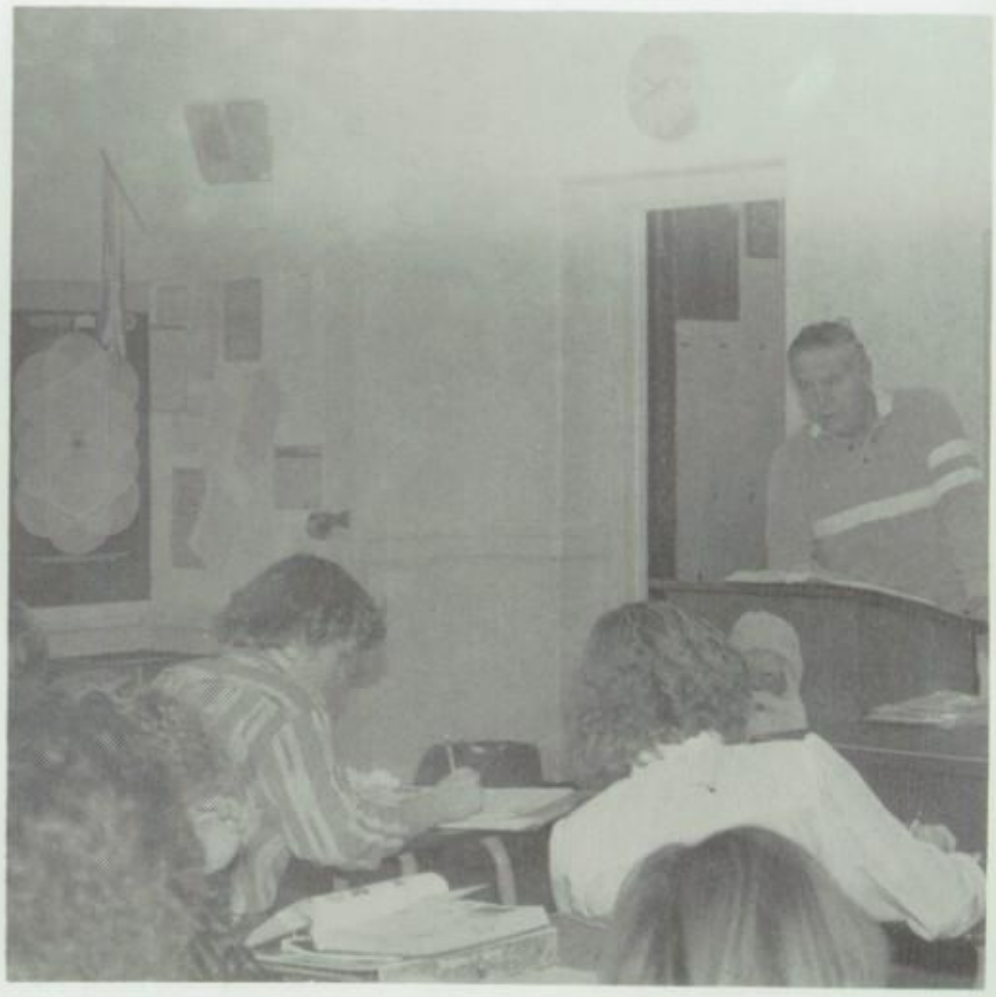
Joy Morehead gives a presentation in Senior Communications class.

Fall play cast members go through a full dress rehersal in an effort to give the best performance possible.

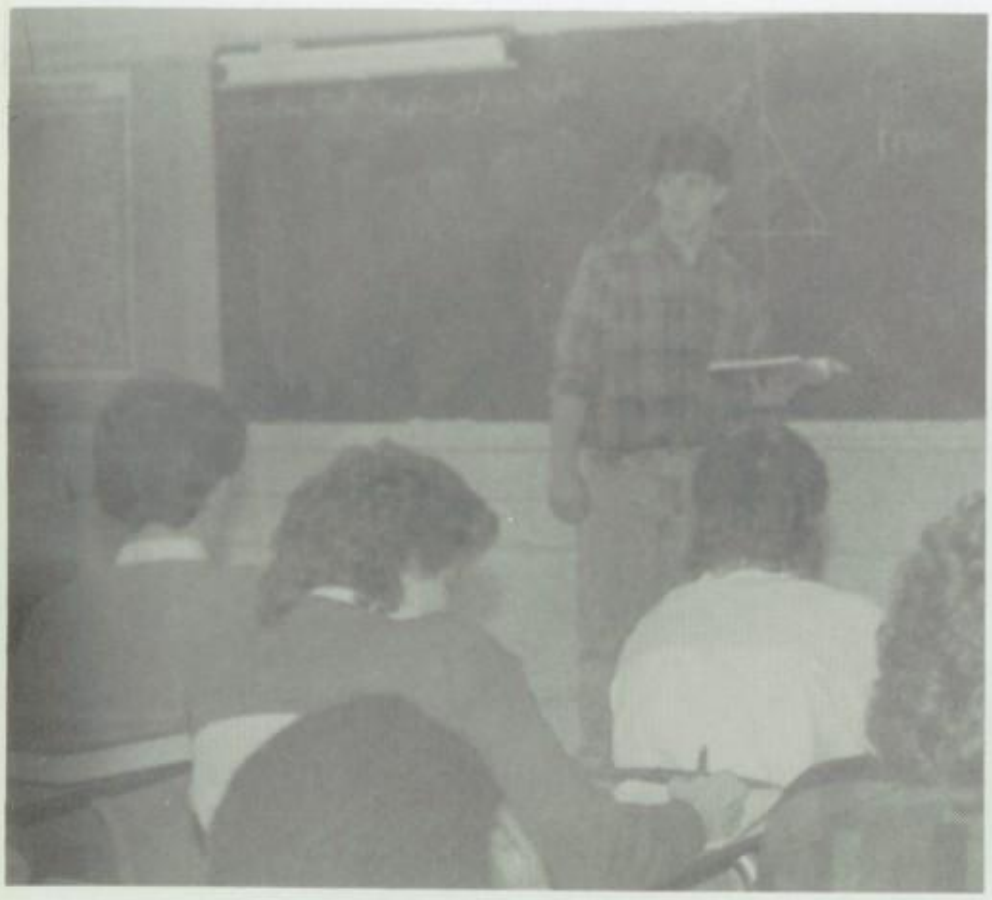
MATH



Angie Ammons turns back for some help in Geometry.



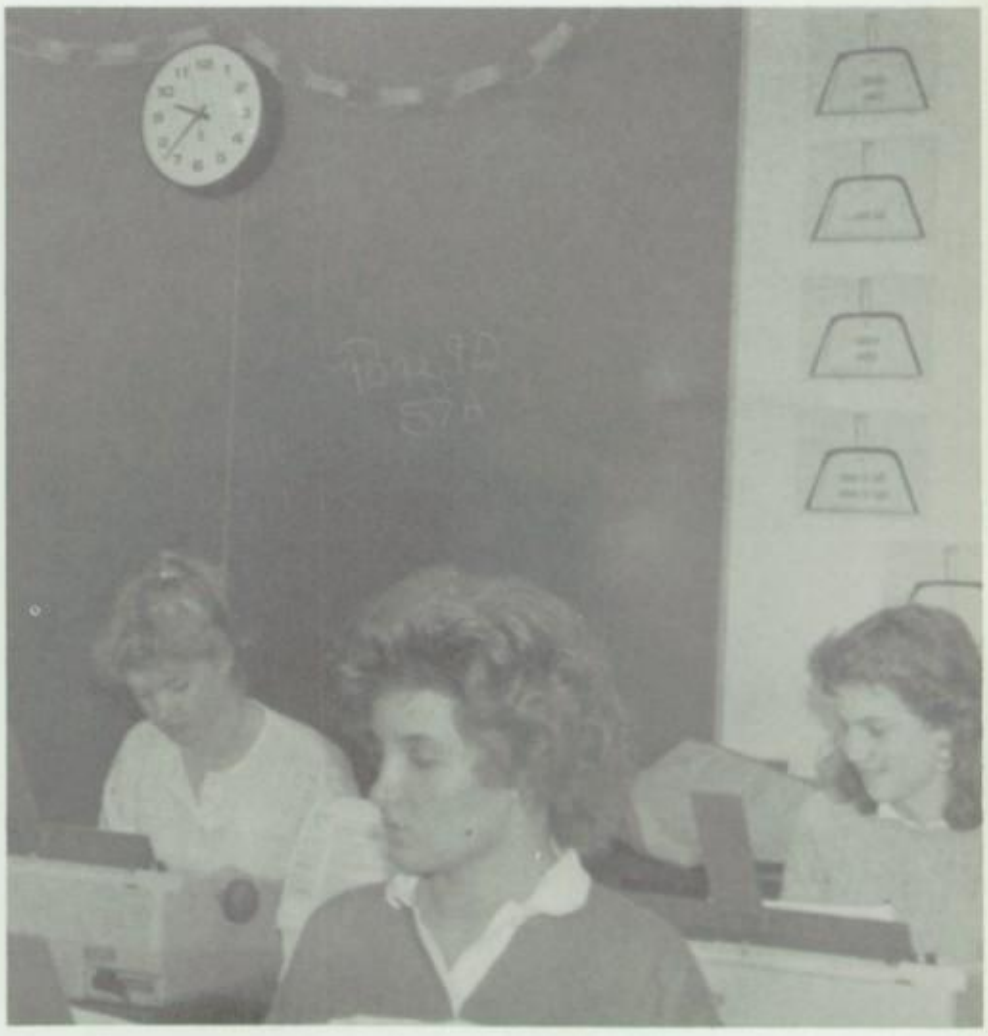
Mr. Forsythe takes an opportunity to explain an upcoming assignment.



Jason Summers works a problem out on the board.

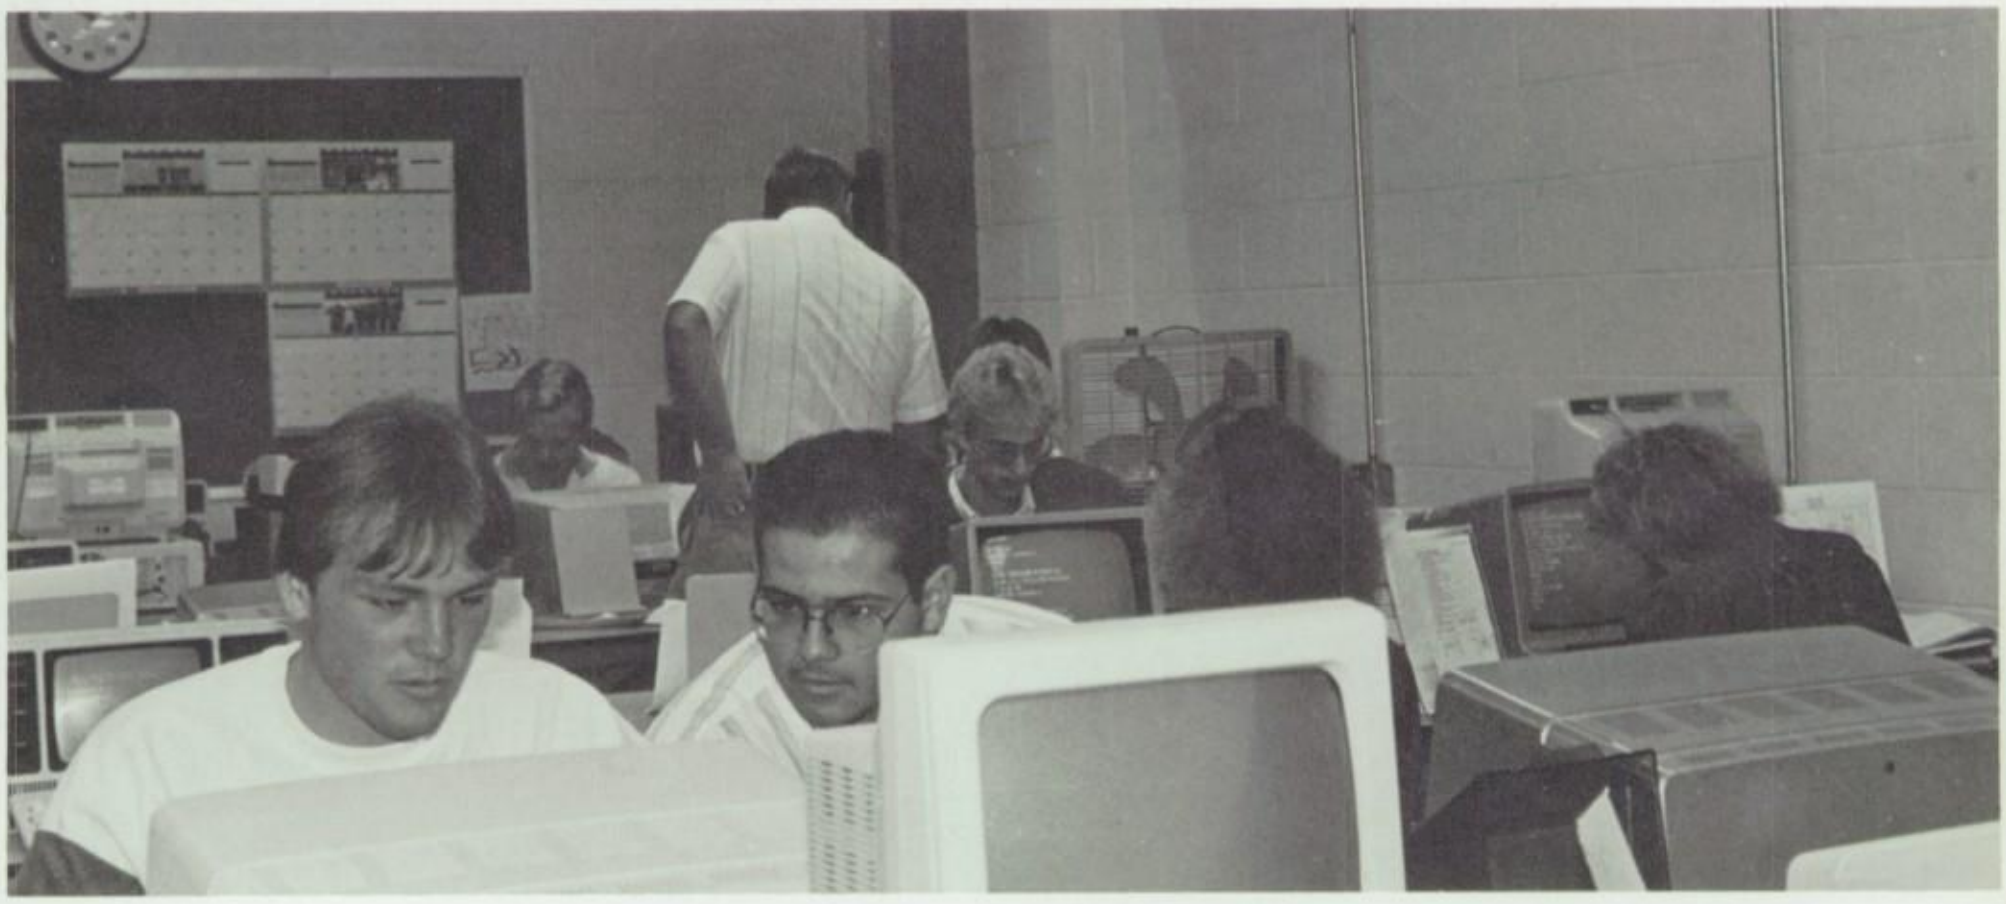
Mrs. Mackey explains how to work a difficult algebra problem in her class.

Mr. Schnoes explains how to figure margins to his Basic Typing class.



Lisa Chance, Chrissy Repp, and April Morgan type a Manuscript.

BUSINESS



John Conley and Kevin Heffron try to figure out their "dumb computers".

HISTORY

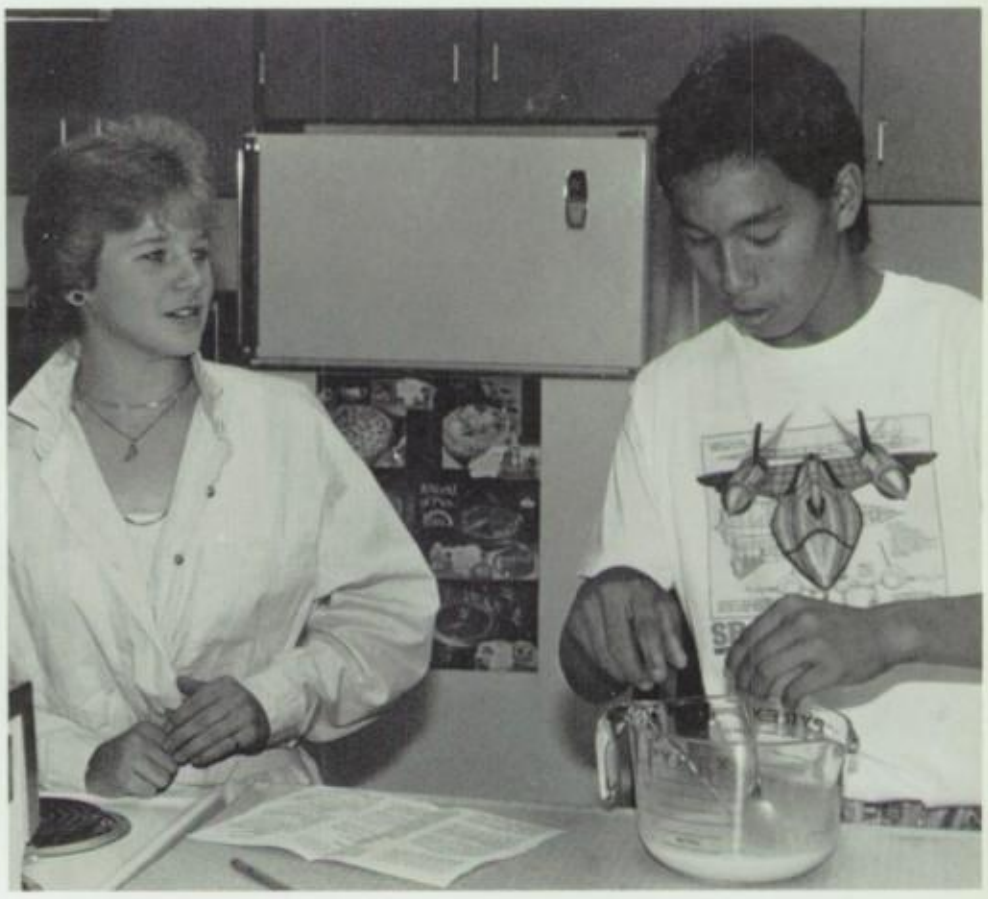
Mr. Mordan teaches Tanya Walker how to use the Thermofax machine.

Mr. Casebolt's World History class review for a major test.

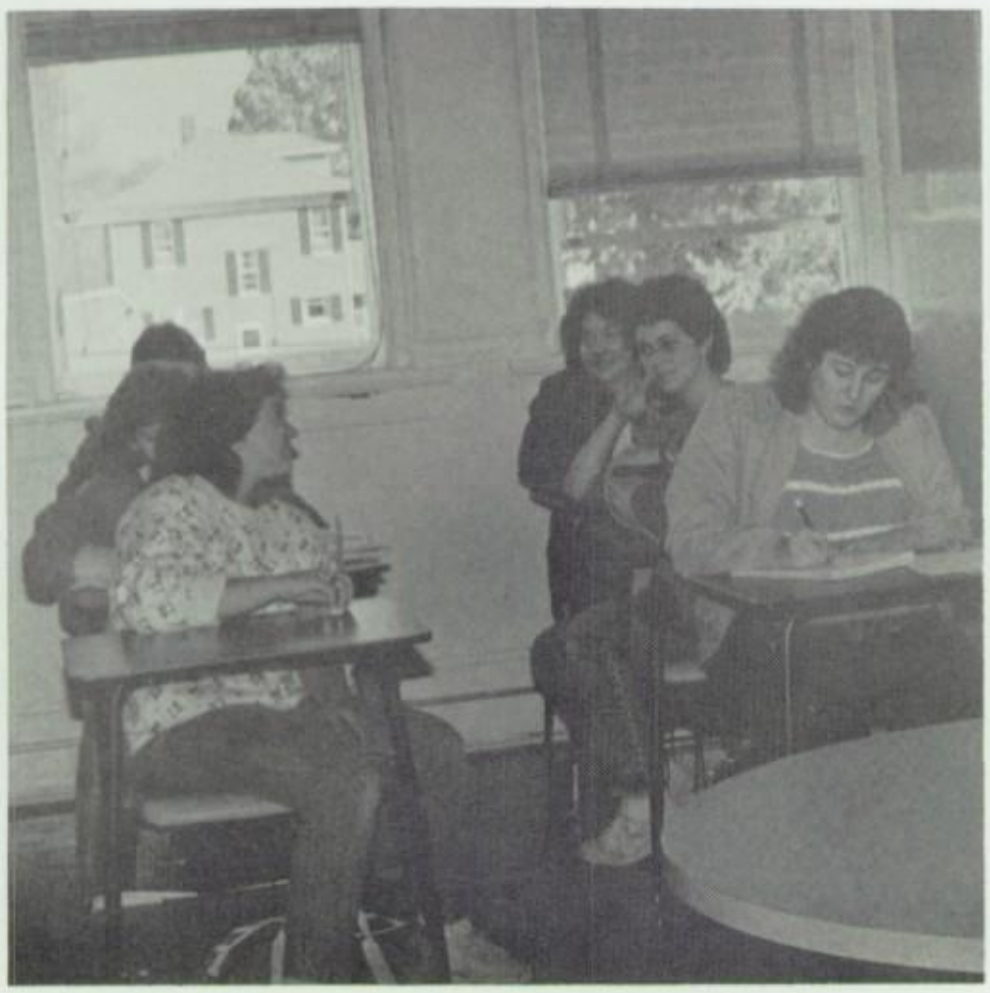
The Government class is allowed to sneak in a conversation about their weekend.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Mrs. Parks and Mr. Petersen share the duties in Foreign Language classes.



Brenda Mohrman and Matt Jorn, converse, while they makes crepes for French class.



The Spanish class sneaks in a little Spainish gossip during class.

This year there was a new experience in the Foreign Language Department with Ms. Elaine Parks and Mr. Wade Peterson replacing Mrs. Jane Bridger.

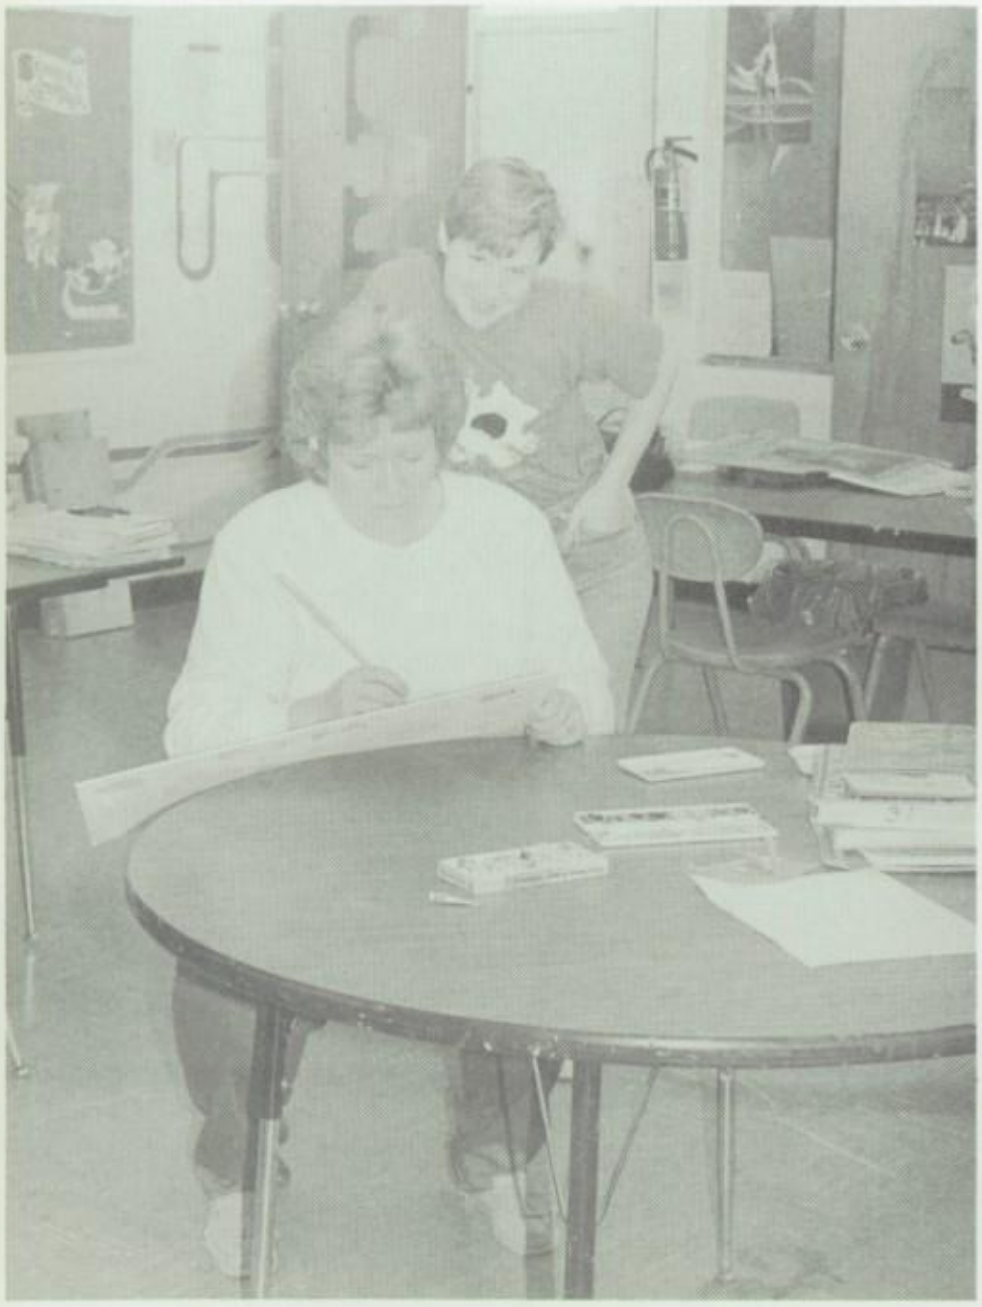
Each class not only learned a foreign language, but they also learned about the different cultures and traditions of different countries.

This year Albia High School was honored to have had four foreign exchange students: Jorunn (June) Lye from Norway, Anders Pederson from Norway, Jorges Del Amo from Spain, and Sergio Geis, also from Spain. Jorunn Lye, from Norway, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Swee of Albia. Anderes Pederson, from Norway, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. John Judge of Albia. Jorges Del Amo, from Spain, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sinnott of Melrose and Sergio Geis also from Spain, stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Belzer, of Albia.

The Foreign Language classes also had an International Club. The requirements were that the students be involved in a foreign language class. Foreign exchange students were also welcome. The International Club took a field day and went to William Penn College in Oskaloosa, Iowa to learn more from foreign language workshops.

It had been very interesting with the new Foreign language teachers, Ms. Parks and Mr. Peterson.

ART



Mrs. Young helps Tabatha Curtis on her drawing in Art.

Randy Fabert looks for various artistic designs for his picture.

Mrs. Connie Young, the art teacher taught five different classes. Each class involved different requirements for the individual student. Pottery allowed the students to do things with their hands and Crafts allowed students to use their talent of adventure when painting on wood projects.

The Art classes which were offered in the department were Art I, Drawing and Painting, Advanced Drawing and Painting, Individualized Art, Pottery and Crafts. Art classes allowed an individual to use his or her emotions in the work. Many students said they enjoyed the class they were involved in.

The Art Club allowed any student from any Art class to join. Mrs. Young was the Art Club director. The Art Club officers were Kerry Stewart-President, Joe Fosenburg-Vice President, and Michelle Fleener-Secretary.

This year the Art Club went to Chicago for their field trip. Students raised money by having bazaars, making art projects and selling them to the student body and community.

It's been fun!

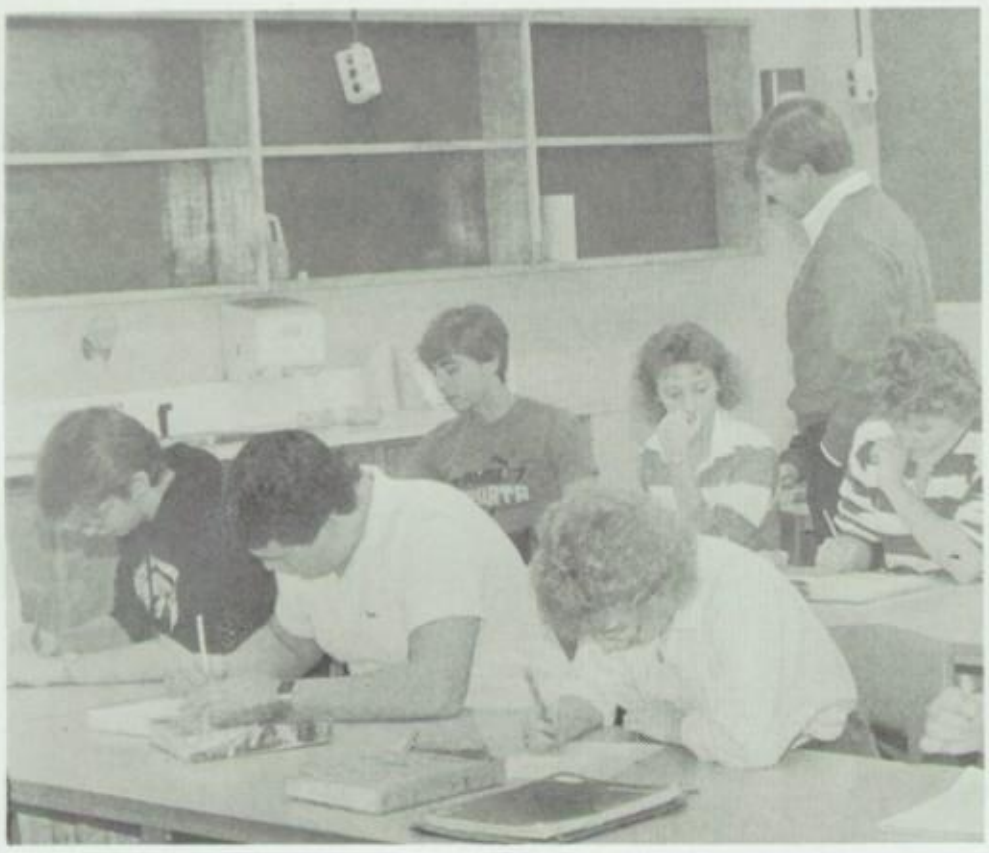
SCIENCE



Mr. Mackey's Biology class takes a pop quiz at the beginning of class.

"Will it survive the crash!" says Freshman Gail Gutcher in her seat belt experiment in SEL class.

Barb Knowles and Sheryl Findley read in their text, while Mrs. Gates explains, how to perform their lab in Chemistry.

Mrs. Haluska explains classification to Kim Caster in Essential Biology.

HOME ECONOMICS

Christine Heffron, Margie McCarty and Karla Gutcher learn how to make button holes.

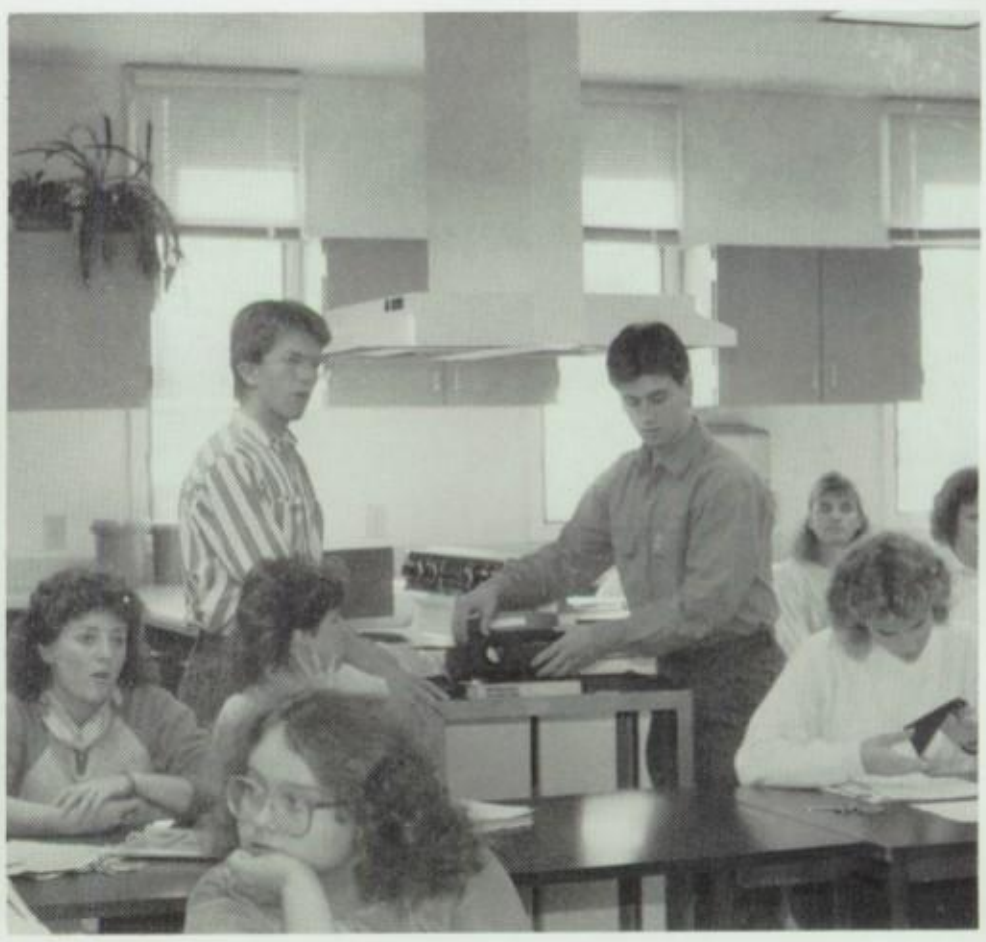
Home Economics was taught by Mrs. Margret Mordan, who also was the leader of the F.H.A. Club (Future Homemakers of America).

The Economic department offered a wide variety of classes; which began with Clothing Design and 9th grade Home Economics.

In the Economic department there were other classes such as Family Living, Parenthood and Singles Living which helped the students evaluate themselves and their future in the busy world.

The Economic department allowed the students to learn more about themselves and the world around them.

Stacie Lane pours the batter while Donita Hiatt demonstrates her flipping skill as Mary Sullivan observes from a safe distance.



Brent Lindberg and Jason Summers prepare for a presentation.

"Make sure you buckle your seatbelt." says Mr. Sailor to Jodi Yenger.

"Whatever you do don't hit the bus!" Mr. Sailor says to the student driver.

DRIVER'S EDUCATION

Mr. Sailor shows off his sporty new car. While Shannon Sample and Dana Barens get ready to drive.

For many years the Driver's Education class has provided lifetime skills. The director, Mr. Bill Sailor has felt some students would enjoy learning skills of maintaining a car.

In this class, students learned the proper ways to handle the vehicle. Some of the things they learned were; The Smith System, proper ways to signal, pass, and stop at a stop sign. This class has provided students who had their permit and wanted to get their driver's license at age 16 to accomplish this.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Josh Smith and Deno Parenza laugh over a good joke while Dave Baker, Brad Woollums, and Bob Teno try to work.

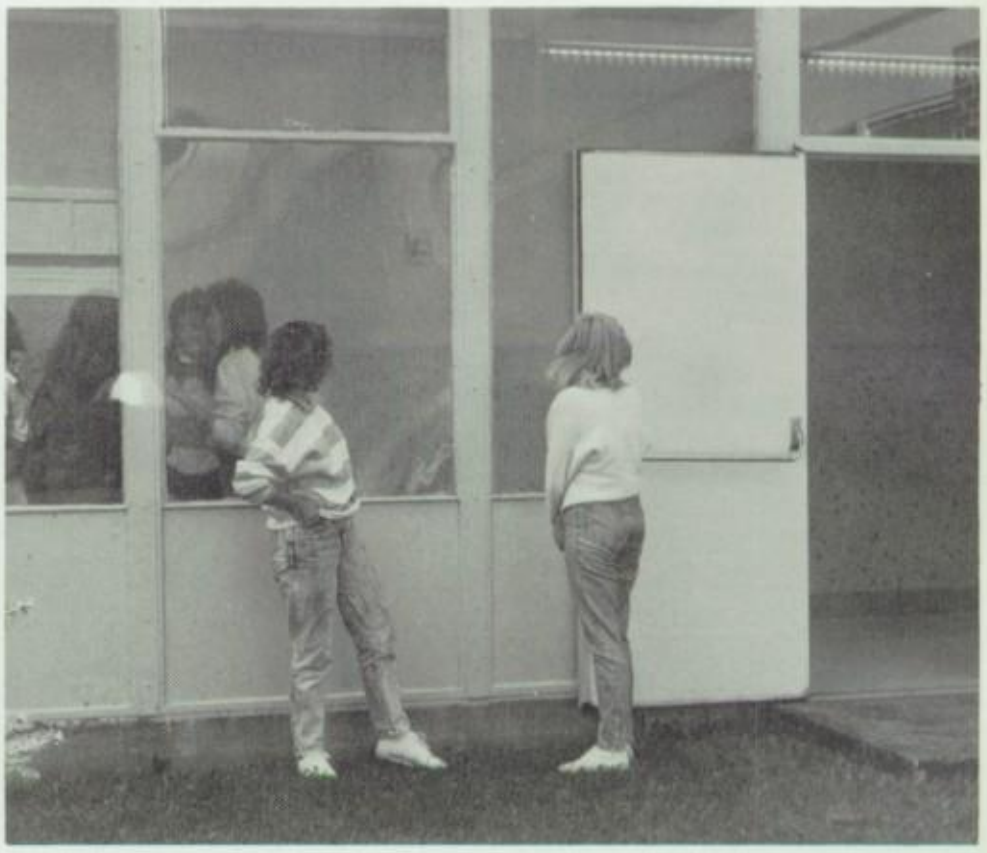
Mark Summers and Mark Keeton try to create something in the woods workshop.

Jeff Scieszinski and John Smithberg experiment with hydrolic power in Power Mechanics.

Russ Chamberlain practices welding in Industrial Arts.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE

Dien Judge, Joe Blomgren, Doug Judge, and Marc Nollen get in a conversation on the way to the Farm Progress show.



Candy Bender and Tonya Blanchard take a break from tulip planting.

Mr. Hall gives instruction on how to plant tulips to Ed Scholtus, Marc Nollen, Tim Kaldenberg, Jim Findley, and Dien Judge.

This year the Vocational Agriculture department started the new year off with a new teacher, Mr. Ed. Hall.

Mr. Hall has got to know his students and has become close with many of the kids.

The Vocational Agriculture class teaches or is set up to prepare student career in agriculture, science and technology.

This year the Vo. Ag. classes went to the Farm Progress show in Almon, Iowa, and also went to the Iowa State University to learn more about agriculture science and technology. Also, honor students went to Kansas City, Missouri for Agriculture shows.

It's been fun and very interesting.

S.A.D.D.

According to sponsor Peg Haluska the purpose of the SADD chapter is to help save students lives, and the lives of others, and to educate students concerning the problems of drinking and driving. The program hopes to increase the public awareness, and get the public involved. Our community has experienced deaths due to accidents involving drinking, and driving. Through public awareness they hope to reduce the number of drinking fatalities in our area. Parents need to recognize that today's students have inherited society, and need to learn to cope with this type of environment.

Mrs. Haluska discusses the importance of not drinking, and driving at a SADD meeting.

First Row: Terri Thomas, Joe Fosenburg, and Wayne Conway. S.E.S.

Officers: Terri Thomas,Julie Gansman,Ramona Knapp,Maryellen Scieszinski,Deb Hatfield,Kim Hugen, and Karen Farrington.

S.E.S. is an organization that stands for Students Educational Services. Members learned many leadership goals, and also learned how to deal with people. Throughout the year, members can be found helping sponsor Mr. Lindberg organize meetings, and helping community activities. Also, members tutor their peers, help other teachers, and students teach elementary art classes. This year on March 29, S.E.S. took a field trip to Hannibal, Mo. They visited museums, the Mark Twain cave, and many other enjoyable little gift shops. S.E.S. is a very enjoyable club, and students learn valuable goals for a life time!

AUDIO VISUAL

First year A.V. members learn the basic functions of T.V. monitoring systems.

The A.V. Club, sponsored by Charles Mordan, spent most of their time this year by preparing equipment. They dealt with all aspects of media such as: 16 mm, slide projectors, FS projectors, overheads, opaques, VCR's, Video cameras, and screens.

Club members set up equipment for teachers, and organizations, and all games during the year were taped by volunteer members.

Rick Landgrebe works on an opaque projector while Scott Tibbals explains what he is doing wrong.

They also took large group one act play, Charlottes Web with three ensemble acts with two to five people. And entered sixteen individual entries.

They received I's on both acts. And two people received ones on individual acts.

Mrs. Sprouse feels that Speech has grown and has more to offer for all types of people.

DRAMA

Andera Cardenzana sits patiently while Mrs. Foster applies make-up.

This year Drama presented Charlotte's Web,as their Fall Play. Their Spring Spectacular was The Crucible. Each play used realistic backgrounds and costumes. Charlotte's Web consisted of real hay bales,a trough, and simple costumes. Drama members created a special plywood stage for The Crucible, which was in the big gym. Lights were provided by A.V. and costumes were specially made by Mrs. Mordan and her Home Ec. classes.

Students learned about culture from Egypt, Spain, and France. Also they learned a lot from our Foreign Exchange Students.

ART CLUB

Art Club is an organization for the students enrolled in, or have taken an art class. They do things for the community, public, and school. This year they took a trip to Chicago. They had to earn their way to be able to go. They planned a bazarre which they sold hand crafted items made by art club members. Their sponsor Connie Young established a great trip and all went well. Art Club toured many museums and also the Sears Tower while in Chicago. The Art Show was also a big success.

Art Club was enjoyed by all and is definately "On A Roll".

Toni Carter, Gail Gutcher, and Candy Stewart look over the Art bazarre.

Student Council was pretty busy this year. They had a Homecoming opening assembly, they also had a fun night on Thursday Oct. 8, and dress up schedule for that week. Student Council put up the Christmas tree in the school's court yard. At Christmas time student council gave money to the Helping Hand Center. Student Council bought the bulletin boards in the hallways and the lunch room. They changed the theme monthly. Student council thought of things to do in the months to come. In March they put on Spirit Week. During Spirit Week the dress up days were: Monday dress like your favorite teacher and the teacher dress up like his/her favorite student, Tuesday wild tie, hat and shades, Wednesday dress up day, Thursday nerd day, Friday was sports day . They also had a guest speakers athletic psychologist Carol Harder and the Oskaloosa coach Jerry Staton. Future months included Acheiver of the Month.

STUDENT LIBRARIANS

Student Librarian Assistants (SLA) was a service club whose purpose was to improve library service to the school and to provide valuable assistance to the librarian. Members of the club volunteered to work in the library from two to five periods per week during their study hall. Duties which varied from day to day included circulation, shelving, processing new books, repairing old material, and delivering library materials. They learned how to work together to provide services for others. Students were able to earn points towards a pin and a trip in the spring.

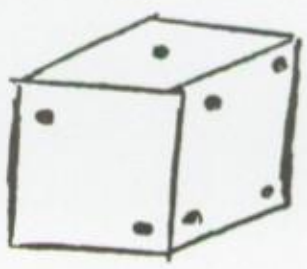
SPORTS



CHEERLEADERS

This year the cheerleading program tried many new things. At pep assemblies the cheerleaders did pom-pom routines and mounts to add life to them. Locker signs were changed, and the people who went to state gave the cheerleaders a chance to show their appreciation by making them special locker signs.The cheerleaders also bought balloons for those who went to State.The cheerleaders got new uniforms this year.

A split season was tried. Tryouts were held for winter sports and for fall sports. A lot of people tried out for cheerleading, but only twelve made it. The split season didn't really work to well so it's back to one tryout.

Sponsor Linda Griffin was pleased with the way this year turned out and will nbe back next year as a sponsor. The cheerleaders had many fund raisers to help the season. Overall it was a great year.

Varsity Cheerleaders Sheila Courtney Lisa Larson Angie Billings Melanie Conner. They wait for the signal to start the cheer at a pep assembly.

All the way . . . Cheers the freshman cheerleaders at a basketball game.

School Song. On Albia we're loyal to you fight for the red and the blue. Football, Basketball, any old game. Win or defeat we'll love you the same.

On Albia spirit runs high. Whenever we see your colors go by. Years to come we'll stand and cry here's to you old Albia High.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

It was a rough season for the Albia Varsity football team. They only had one win against Davis Co. There were 18 returning Seniors. Losing these players next year will hurt the team both in skill and number. Next year will be a rebuilding season and hope will be high for more wins. Stats weren't available.

Making the tackle Albia stops their opponent from scoring.

FRESHMAN & J.V. FOOTBALL

The football teams started off slow, but thru hard work, team spirit, and support from the community they made alot of improvement in playing. Coach Schnoes said that the freshman learned alot from watching and listening to their vetern players the sophomores.He also said that "He was pleased with the teams preformances over all". As the year progressed and they picked up more knowledge, their preformances as a team improved.

BOYS VARSITY

Albia's Basketball team: Matt Sarver, Stacy DeTar, Kevin Nunnikhoven, Bion Thompson, Spencer Knupp, Rob Forsythe, Eric Leshen, Scott Casbolt

After making his way to the basket Bion Thompson shoots for two points.

Albia guards Pella and tries to keep them from making a basket.

BASKETBALL

Spencer Knupp shoots a free throw while the others try to get the rebound.

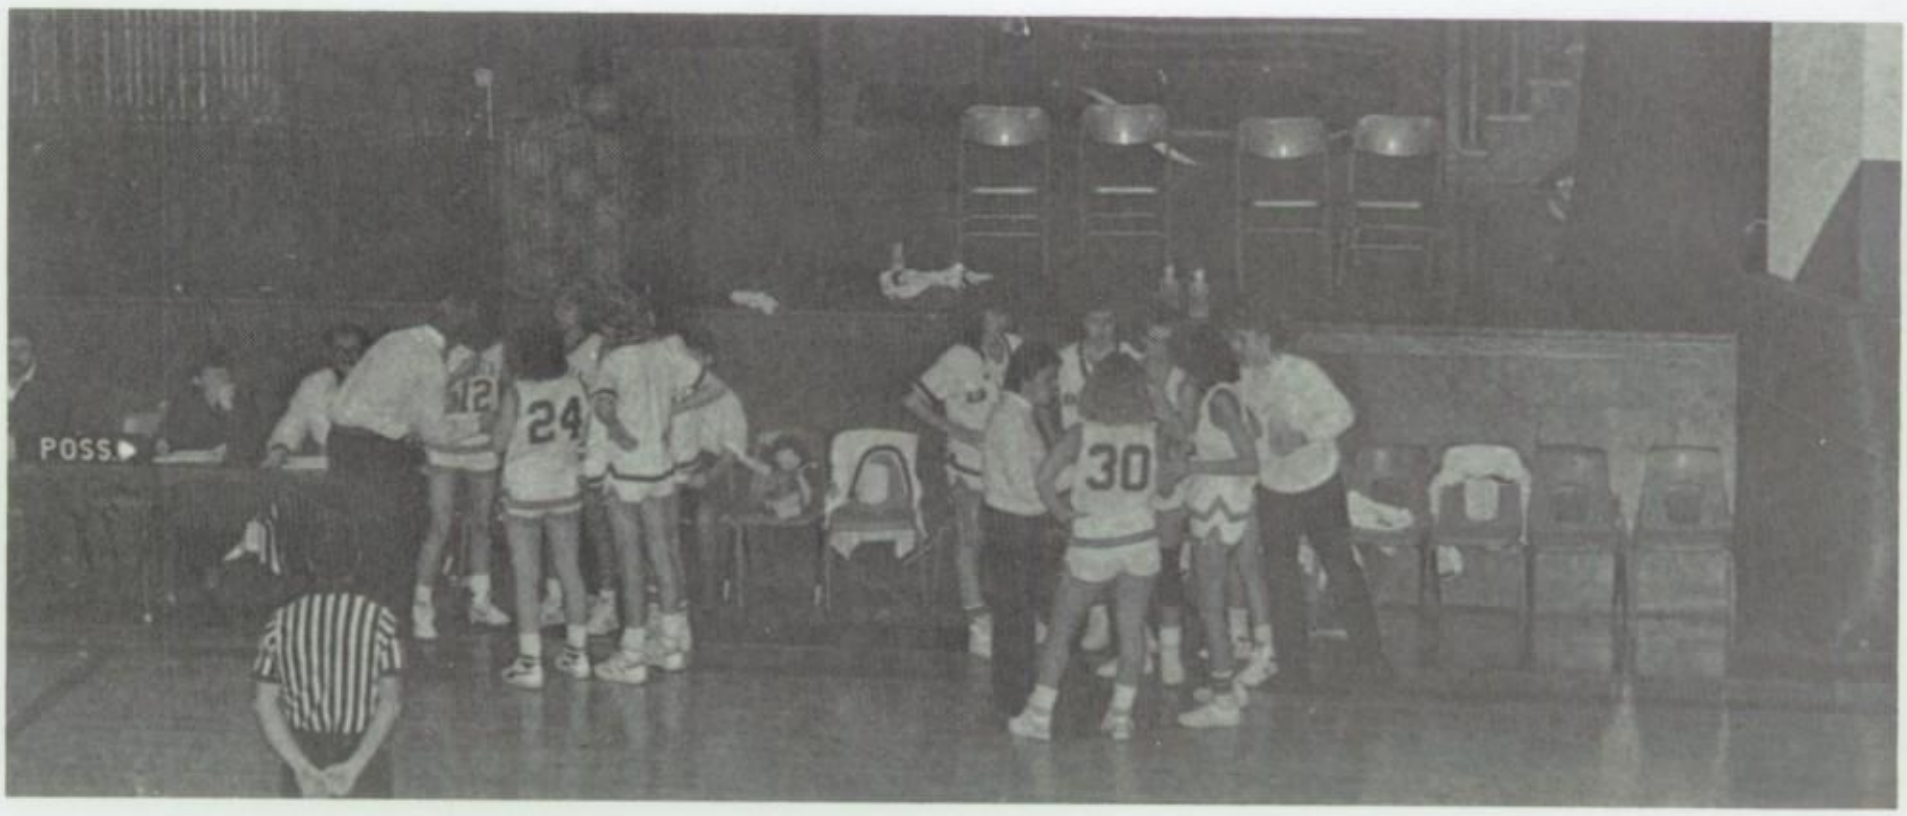
Scott Casebolt drives in to shoot for two.

GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL

Here comes the ball, Stacie says senior forward Jill Wells as she throws the ball in bounds for action.

The team improved greatly over the season. The team took some great leaps foward in both courts. The players had great enthusiasm. With this progress, enthusiasm, and support from the parents the team was able to get along great during the season.

Coach Linda Hoskins said "The team learned from most of thier mistakes in the beginning to help in the end." Michelle Freshwater made first team all conference. The team strived hard to accomplish thier goals that they set. Next year will be a great season just like this season was.



Here's what you're to do. Coaches Hoskins and Martin tell the next plan of action during a time out.

Albia Guards watch on to see if Fox Valley will make the basket for a point.

Up for two Heather Siedschlag adds two points to the score and to her season record.

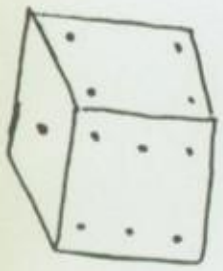
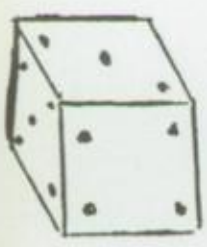
ON A



Gina Dellavadova drives the ball to the next hole. She was a medalist.

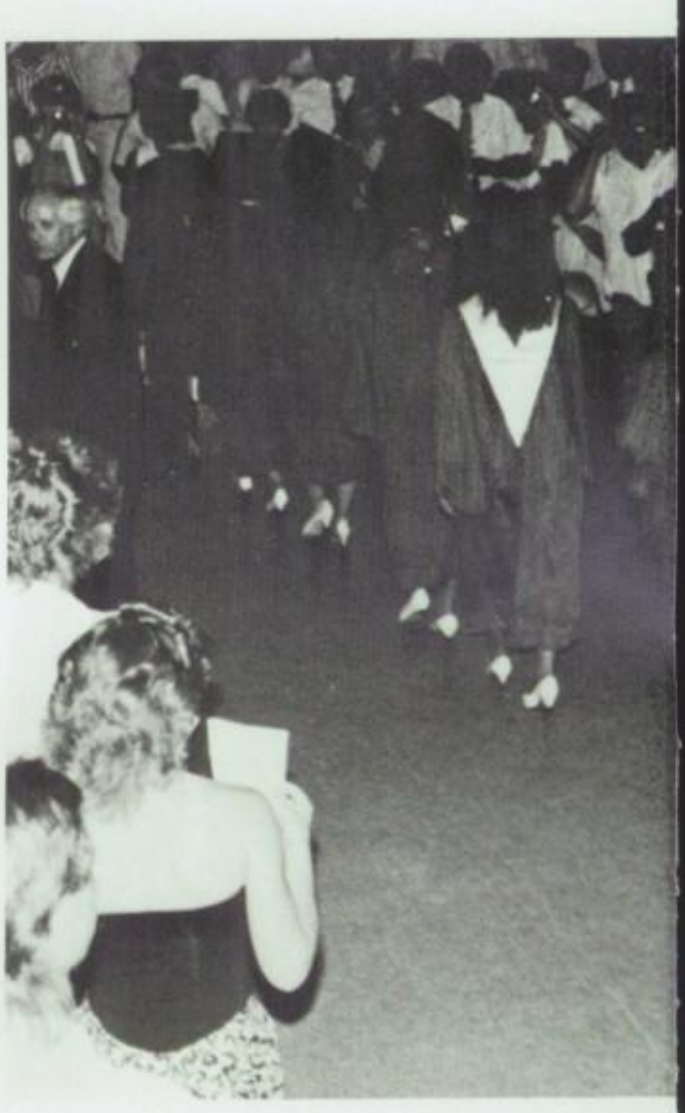


French I students celebrate a great year by having a small party.

The 1987-88 yearbook was completed by eighteen students who met in room two under the instruction of Curtis Hodgdon during second period, 9:22 to 10:04.

In the beginning of the year we chose our theme, "On A Roll", to show the uplifting enthusiasm which seemed to symbolize the 87-88 school year.

To show pride in our school we chose a blue cover with red lettering and a red graphic 88 in the center, and centered within that, art work by Randy Fabert.



The Senior class of 88 walk out to "Gallant Man" at Graduation.

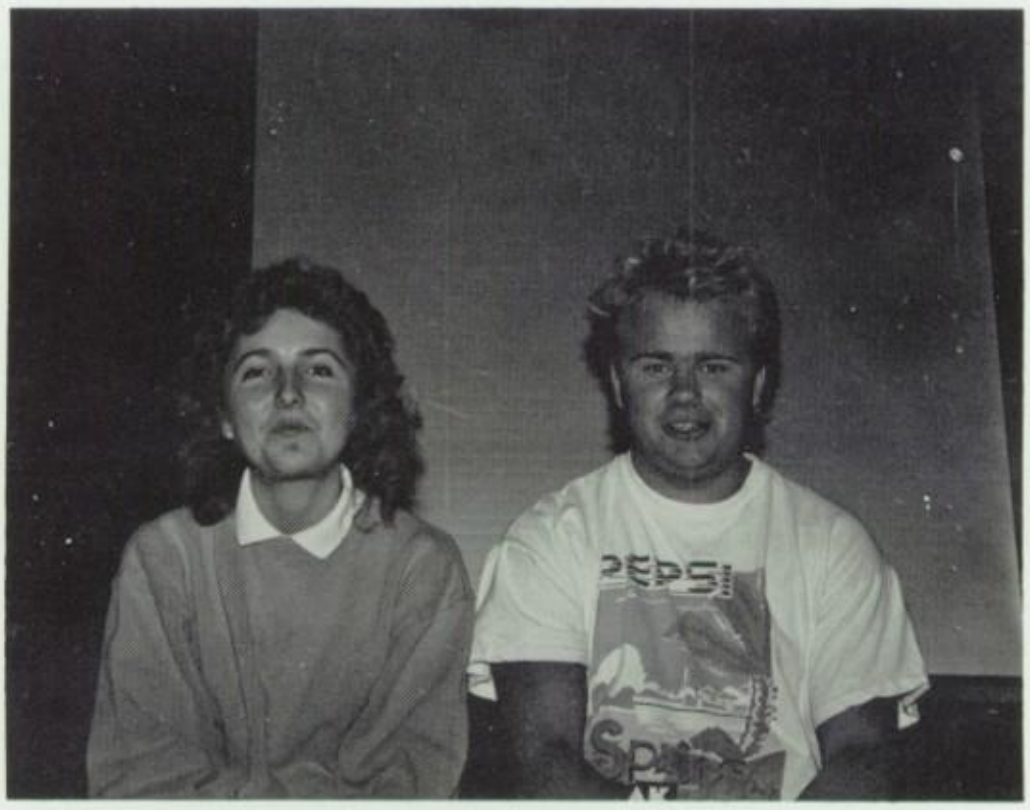
ROLL

We would like to thank the staff for allowing us to take pictures of their classes and the students who gave us many colorful shots. We appreciate all the cooperation and assistance in making our book thje best it could be.

We would also like to thank Sharon's Hometown Studio for taking underclass portraits, class pictures, Senior Assembly, and Graduation. Also to Echoes for running ads and helping to sell pictures.

A special thanks to Mr. Hodgdon, who helped us become a group, the substitutes, Deb Williams, and Mrs. Jones, who put up with the mess, and the Josten's representative Dave Cornell who helped get us back on track.



Foreign exchange students Anders Pederson and June Lye take a minute of American life to take a picture.
